FARM SIZE

The average size of U.S. farms continues to grow but at a smaller rate than during the past decade. The 1974 average of 384 acres was one acre less than in 1973.

Warehouse Designation Period Closes Sept. 5

Operators of tobacco farms who wish to designate or re-designate a warehouse at which to sell their tobacco may do so Aug. 19 - Sept. 5, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) announced.

Farmers should bring the tobacco marketing cards for the warehouses involved in the re-designation.

Farm operator and owner may lease tobacco poundage from one farm to another up until Nov. 30, 1975 under these conditions:

Farms with 2,000 pounds or less may lease tobacco off farm even though no tobacco is being grown for 1975;

Farms with an effective allotment of over 2,000 pounds, both the receiving and transferring farm must have planted at least 50 per cent or more of effective allotment during 1975 to be eligible to lease and transfer tobacco to or from farm.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced that the base loan rate for 1975 upland cotton for Hoke county is $37.25.

Cost-share, at the rate of $4 per acre is available to farmers who wish to protect their land during the coming winter months with a winter cover crop. To be eligible for a payment, the farmer must request cost share before the process is started and complete the seeding by Nov. 20.

The Department also issued a reminder that disaster applications must be filed no later than 15 days after harvesting the crop.

N.C. TENTH

North Carolina ranks in the top 10 states in export of farm-grown goods. The Tar Heel state ranked tenth in 1974 with exports valued at $772 million. Top exporter was Illinois with $2 billion worth.
