Bicycle Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Webb visited her parents in Laurinburg Saturday. There was certainly nothing unusual about this—but their method of getting there was rather interesting to the neighborhood. Mrs. Webb who has just recently taken up bicycling for exercise decided to ride her bicycle. She figured she could make it in 4 hours. A few minutes after 9 o'clock A.M. she called her doubting neighbors (collect) to report that she'd made it in 3 hours and 7 minutes—and in that time had taken two 5 minute breaks. Mr. Webb slept on for a bit after his wife left at 6 o'clock—then decided he'd go rescue her. He figured very prominently among the neighborhood doubting Thomases—but became a "believer" when he saw his wife cycle in at her destination after the 25 1/2 mile trip.

This will not seem so great to the youngsters who ride bikes all day—but to those of us who know just how many pushes on the pedal that it takes to go a mile it seems quite an accomplishment.

Congratulations Lib—We'll believe you from now on and save ourselves the price of a telephone call.

Forest Resources Seeking Pine Cones

"The North Carolina Division of Forest Resources produces millions of pine and hardwood seedlings each year for forest planting. This year's seedlings will be ready for transplanting in late November and people who wish to buy them should get their orders in as soon as possible," according to county ranger Robert Jones.

Jones said the seedlings are sold by the division at cost and are intended for forest planting, erosion control, or as windbreaks. Seedlings cost as little as $10.20 per thousand seedlings delivered to the buyers of loblolly pine.

According to Jones, the Division of Forest Resources is now planning for next year's crop of seedlings and will buy loblolly and longleaf pine cones which are picked and handled in accordance with the Division's specifications. "The Division of Forest Resources will pay $4.50 per bushel for loblolly pine cones and $3.50 per bushel for longleaf cones. People who are interested in supplying these pine cones must contact me or the Division's District Office in Fayetteville, first, so we can inform them how to properly pick and handle the cones.

People who are interested in supplying pine cones should contact Forest Ranger Robert Jones at his office, or by telephone at 875-2808.
