been graded for quality by federal and state graders.

Chickens labeled U.S. Grade A are the highest quality ones. They're fully fleshed and meaty and have a good overall appearance - making them the best choice for outdoor broiling. This grade shield will be found on packages of chicken parts as well as on whole chickens.

While the grade shield indicates quality - the real key to tenderness is the age or class of the bird. Young chickens are more tender than older ones. They may be labeled young chicken, Rock Cornish game hen, broiler, fryer, roaster or capon.

On the other hand, mature, less tender chickens will be labeled stewing fowl, hen, mature or old. Try the following recipe.

CHICKEN BAR-B-QUE

- 2 1/2 lb. chicken
- 1/2 stick butter or margarine
- 2 lemons (juice)
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. garlic salt
- 1 1/2 tsp. paprika
- 1/2 tsp. dry mustard
- 1/2 tsp. Texas Pete Sauce

Prepare sauce prior to putting chicken on grill. Baste chicken frequently, usually each time it is turned. To test for doneness take the drumstick and twist lightly and if it turns in the joint you can consider it done.

CHICKEN TO BARBECUE

Chicken is an all-time barbecue favorite. This week they are advertised in the Newspaper ads on special. For a really successful cookout - you'll need high quality, young, tender-meated birds.

When shopping for poultry - be sure to look for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's grade shield on the label. It means that the chicken has

Story Of New Library To Be At State Display

Hoke county is one of only 15 counties invited to present its Bicentennial project before the state Bicentennial commission at its annual meeting Oct. 3, county co-chairman Iris Davis announced.

Mrs. Davis said a group of county representatives, yet to be named, will present the story of the Bicentennial Library building through a scrapbook, architect's scale model, and tape recordings.

The Oct. 3 gathering will be an all-day affair with exhibits detailing Bicentennial projects underway in other counties.

Bicentennial administrator Dick Ellis termed the Hoke Bicentennial Library the most outstanding project in the state during a visit last month.
