The Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) members this year will be taken from the 68 possible students enrolled in the Distributive Educational classes.

There are four classes in the 75-76 year, Marketing I, DE I, and two DECA classes.

The first DECA club meeting was held Wednesday night Sept. 10th. New officers for the school year were elected and installed. The officers are: Glendia Black, President, Gloria Smith, Vice - President, Madelyn Miller, Secretary, Shirley Baldwin, Treasurer, and Jan Dial, Historian.

The members voted and discussed new activities for the year. Several new trips and activities will be added to the existing schedule, a trip to the State Fair, Washington, D.C., and the State and District DECA Conventions.
Mr. Don Steed, former DE teacher and now assistant principal of Hoke County High School, spoke to the club about his expectations for a successful year at the meeting on last Wednesday night.

On Tuesday, September 17th the DECA classes were visited by Mr. Horace C. Robertson, the Chief Consultant from the Dept. of Public Instruction for the State of North Carolina, Mr. Robertson observed the DE classes in session and evaluated the new advisor coordinator, Mr. Robert C. Averette.

The next DECA Club meeting will be held on Wednesday night, October

The NHS (National Honor Society) held an assembly for all seniors, juniors, and sophmores Wednesday, September 17, to tap nineteen new members from the senior and junior classes for admission into the 1975-1976 NHS. Dwan Upchurch, president, was in charge of the assembly at which time she read the rules and requirements for becoming eligible for membership into the NHS and recognized the newly elected officers for this year. Robin Holland, secretary, led everyone in prayer followed by Charlotta King, vice-president, who introduced the members already in the NHS and its addition. the NHS and its advisor; Mrs. Sarah Baucom. The main requirement for membership is a 90 or above average and the nineteen new members who were presented a red carnation when tapped, are: Martha Ann Wood, tapped, are: Martha Ann Wood, Joanna Best, Knox Matthews, Gloria Smith, Agnes Wilkes, Frank Kicklighter, Debra Mays, Helena Rogers, Ronald Kirkley, Barry Ellis, Ronnie Ellis, Judy Cothran, Susan Townsend, Kathy Hawkins, Wally Jordan, Lori Niven, Mike Peckham, Susan Seagroves, and Kenneth Barnes. Initiations will be in a few weeks and I know everyone is weeks and I know everyone is looking forward to that day, (except the new members!).

The NHS isn't the only club that gets to have a little fun during school. The Key Club got a headstart on the NHS by initiating its new members on Wednesday, September 24. During lunch, which was the 'main initiating' time, all you could see were brooms, mops, buckets, and boots, not to memtion shaving lather flying in every direction, plus an occasional wad of chewing tobacco every now and then. All fifteen new members got a pretty fair 'initiating', but I know all they were thinking about were the new people they would be able to 'get' next year when they would be giving the

The SAE met last week to elect officers and discuss plans for the upcoming year. Hope Williams, president, who was elected at the last meeting was in charge of this meeting. Barbara McCall was elected as secretary, and Steve Morgan was elected as vice-president by acclamation. Dues for this year are $2.00. Plans for the 1975-1976 SAE are to send representatives to the Board of Education meetings every month in groups of two and four, for the purpose of observing the how and why process of education. Also planned is to send a group of students on a tour of North Carolina State University either this fall or in the spring, and attend the SAE District Convention at Fayetteville State University in October. The purpose of this convention is to elect new district officers, discuss district and state-wide activities and enter various contests involved with the information.

Farmers who suffer damage or severe production loss from natural disasters now may be eligible for an expanded program of credit assistance from the Farmers thome Administration, the rural credit service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, William E. Clark, county supervisor of FmHA for Hoke County said.

FmHA emergency loans to eligible farmers, ranchers and aquaculture operators are to enable them to return to their normal operations after having sustained losses resulting from natural disasters. Individual borrowers must be unable to obtain credit from other usual sources to qualify for FmHA assistance.

Long and intermediate term loans may be made for reorganizing the operation to make it more effective, Also, annual emergency loans may be made each year for up to five years following a natural disaster to permit the borrower to restore his operation and return to usual credit sources for operating funds.

The President may declare a major disaster or an emergency area, authorizing FmHA to make emergency loans available. In addition, the Secretary of Agriculture may designate certain areas as eligible for emergency assistance because of natural disaster upon a request from the governor followed by a county survey to assess damage and estimate dollar loss. FmHA state directors may make limited designations when fewer than 25 farmers, ranchers, or aquaculture operators are affected by disaster in a particular county. State directors can make the credit available at the request of state governors, local governing bodies, or Indian tribal councils.

Interest rates and periods for loans made following disasters vary according to loan purposes. Loans for amounts in excess of actual losses for farm real estate purposes and for operating purposes will be made at the rate of interest prevailing in the private market for comparable long term and intermediate credit. These rates, set semi-annually, are nine percent for operating purposes and eight and three fourths percent for real estate purposes.

Loans for real estate purposes must be repaid within 40 years, most loans for operating purposes may be for up to seven years with a possible five year extension, and production loans will normally mature in one

Each person applying for credit will be given equal consideration without regard to race, creed, color, marital status or national origin.
