Hoke Highlights by Barry Ellis

The Hoke High Chorus and Chorus presented its annual Fall Concert, Monday, October 27. These two groups, under the fine direction of Mrs. Mary Archie McNeill sang of "Sing Out America!". Both the Chorus and Chorale, each, sang several bicentennial arrangements and then joined together in the singing of the musical, "The Music Man".

On behalf of the Chorus, Chorale and Mrs. McNeill, I would like to publicly thank all the very many people who helped in making this concert possible. To everyone who made outfits, helped decorate, publicized the concert, ushered, chaperoned, sold tickets, and donated their money, time, and skills we would like to extend a very grateful "thank you". To the many people who attended the concert and especially the Music Booster Club, who have supported us throughout the year, we would like to acknowledge you for all your help and encouragement, for without the support of you, there would be no choral program at Hoke High. A very special "thank you" for everything you've done for us, from everyone in the Chorus and Chorale.

On Saturday, October 25, the Hoke High Band, under the authoritative leadership of Jimmy James, went to Chapel Hill to perform during the halftime activities of the University of North Carolina - East Carolina football game. Our band, along with twenty-three other bands from around North Carolina, assembled (or squashed) together on the football field of Keenan Stadium to perform for everyone there and in behalf of "Band Day".

The Band is, as always, working on their new halftime shows and especially for Homecoming on November 7. Plans are being made for the band to go to and perform in the Carousal Parade in Charlotte on Thanksgiving Day. So everyone come to the football games and see how well the Hoke High Marching Band will be representing not only Hoke High but Raeford and Hoke County also.

The Hoke High Chorale performed Saturday night, October 25 in Raleigh. The concert was given for the benefit of the American Cancer Society of North Carolina and was attended by approximately 200 people. The Chorale sang in Kings Hall at the Royal Villa Hotel in Raleigh. After the concert, a dance was held and the chorale received a 'Certificate of Appreciation' from the American Cancer Society for coming and singing for them. The chorale as always did another great performance, and represented Hoke High very well.

The Key Club held their bike-a-thon on Sunday afternoon, October 26. The fourteen bicyclists rode 25 miles and raised fifty dollars for the Diabetes Association.

The Spanish Club under the advisement of Mrs. Carrie Lowery held their first meeting last week, Monday, October 20, for the purpose of electing officers for the 1975-1976 school year. The four offices each have two students per office. They are: los presidentes: Mary Wilcox and Sidney Jordan; los vice-presidentes: Marsha Gentry and Jay Hottel; los secretarios: Mike McBryde and David Holland; and los tesoreras and los reporteras: Linda Purcell and Susan Cook.

The four classes have all begun work on their floats for Homecoming on November 7, the last football game for the Varsity Bucks of this season. Clubs are able to build floats and have representatives in the parade this year, also, and something new is "Miss Football 1976, elected by the football players.

Support the Bucks in Bowman on October 31! Be there!!

Landscape Gardening

Winter Watering-Plants need moisture, even in winter. This is especially true of newly-planted trees and shrubs. When frost covers plants, and the days and nights are cold, we tend to forget that plants may need watering. If there is a lack of rainfall, it is advisable to soak soil around plants at least once a week. Apply water slowly, let the garden hose dribble around plants for several hours. Be sure to apply enough water to thoroughly soak soil throughout the root zone.

Eye House Plants-Keep a watchful eye on your house plants for evidence of low humidity, which is evidenced by marginal burning of leaves. Syringe leaves daily (except African violets) to overcome arid conditions. If you have flowering plants, place them near windows. Place any flowering plant near a window where it will receive better light and the plant will be a bit

Farm Items

W. S. Young & Freddie O'Neal
County Agricultural Agents

Now there are two quality levels of certified seeds. These quality levels will appear on the seed tag next year as "Certified I and Certified II seed". The genetic purity standards are the same for both groups. The only differences occur in the mechanical quality and the germination standards. This will mean that growers will be forced to read the tags closely in order to determine what is in the bag. Leaflets are available from seed dealers and the county agent's office to give you full information about the seed program.

Harvesting of the 1975 cotton crop is off to the latest start in recent years. At this time the classing office has received less than 10,000 samples for classification. Grades and staple lengths have not been too good this year but the micronaire readings have been excellent. Most producers have been offered about 50 cents per pound for gade 41, staple 34.

Cottonseed prices to producers are lower at $70.00 to $80.00 per ton.

The 24th Annual "Modern Farming Short Course" will be held at N.C. State University in Raleigh from February 2 - 13, 1976. This is the program sponsored by local banks across the state.

It is set up for young people that are starting in agriculture on a permanent basis. It shows the individual that modern technology has a place on the farms today. It also provides some modern training in crop production, livestock production and some information on making proper farm decisions. Persons that might be interested can get an application blank at the county agent's office. Names must be into the Raleigh office by December 1, 1975.

Director Elected

Julian S. Johnson III of Rt. 1, Raeford was elected to the board of directors of the N.C. Agricultural Foundation, a statewide organization that raises support for N.C. State University's School of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

Saturday, November 1, there will be a plastic housewares sale and display at the back of the library. Commission on the sales will be given to the library building fund.

Art Gore of Morrison, Colo., and a native of Raeford, has given a beautiful art book to the library in memory of his father, lawyer A.D. Gore. "Images of Yesterday" is a nostalgic album style collection of scenes brought to life by the unique color photography of Art Gore. From the old schoolhouse, down the path past the old barn and into the backyard, where fresh strawberry ice cream is waiting in the handcranked freezer - Art Gore has recaptured the past in photographs. He creates moods appealing in their simplicity and moving in their ability to stir memories and re-create moments of the past.

"Treasure Trails in the USA - 1776 - 1976" is our new Bicentennial book. This is a publication by the Home Extension Council listing points of interest, with pictures, in each state. It also lists our states nicknames and meaning and shows where major Bicentennial festivities are being held. Did you know North Carolina gets its name from the Latin form of Charles - meaning: White Thistle -- Then is called the Tarheel State?
