Odum Home Kids To Learn Crafts

The Lumbee Regional Development Association has volunteered a program in developing crafts skills for the 24 youngsters in care at the Odum Home campus of the Baptist Children's Homes of North Carolina. Odum Home staff will also be involved in the programs.

Mrs. Voncile Cummings, a community developer with the L.R.D.A. program, has planned and initiated the program that involves making string art pictures, decorative poodle dogs and some basic Indian crafts such as beadwork.

The items will be used by the children to decorate their room at Odum Home upon completion.

Mrs. Cummings is being assisted by fellow community developer Mrs. Rockie Locklear and Mrs. Lucy Jane Oxedine, Lumbee Indian arts and crafts director. They are all part of the economic development project of the L.R.D.A. The program is designed to run for several weeks.
