Martha Ann Hendrix Is Bride Of James P. McMillan III

Miss Martha Ann Hendrix and James Pink McMillan spoke their wedding vows Sunday, December 21, before the Rev. Gordon W. Ruggles in the Sandy Grove United Methodist Church.

Colonial pedestals with urns filled with white gladioli, chrysanthemums and pompons, seven-branched candelabra with candles in hurricane globes, and red poinsettias formed the setting for the four o'clock ceremony.

Music for the double ring ceremony was rendered by Mrs. Gordon Ruggles of Raeford, soloist, and Miss Jane Barnes of Raleigh, at the piano.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown designed in crystalstone and sculptured Venice lace. Satin ribbon insertions through lace appliques were used on the ruffled, plunge neckline, outlined the Camelot sleeves, and a double row encircled the empire waistline. The full circular skirt extended into a chapel train. Her Camelot cap, covered with matching lace bandeau, held a chapel-length mantilla veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of roses, gypsophila and red carnations, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Cheryl Ann Stutts of Red Springs, maid of honor, wore a gown of holiday red interlock jersey. The floor-length halter dress was fashioned with soft A-line skirt and high empire bodice with plunging neckline. Her matching bolero jacket with long, fitted sleeves was trimmed with white elany lace. She wore a white fur headress and carried a colonial bouquet of red carnations, white pompons and holly.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Hendrix, sister of the bride, and Miss Linda McMillan, the bridegroom's sister. Their dresses were made like the honor attendant's and they carried white fur muffs adorned with red carnations and Christmas holly nosegays with red velvet streamers.

The bridegroom was attended by his father as best man. Ushers were Tom Young of Greenville, S.C., and David Hendrix, brother of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brown Hendrix of Raeford, and is a graduate of Hoke County High School.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.P. McMillan Jr. of Red Springs, was graduated from Red Springs High School and Presbyterian College in Clinton, S.C. He is employed by Derring-Milliken Mills in Greenville, S.C.

The couple will be at home at the Broadmoore Apartments in Greenville.

The bride's parents held a reception in the church annex, following the ceremony.

Mrs. Brown Hendrix Jr. presided at the guest register.

Serving as hostesses were Mrs. Ernest L. Davis, Mrs. J.A. Jones, Mrs. James Hendrix Jr., Mrs. Jimmy Webb, Mrs. David Hendrix and Mrs. Jerry Gaudet.

Mrs. William Stutts, Mrs. Eddie Currie, Mrs. Douglas Currie and Miss Cheryl Stutts of Red Springs, were hostesses at a luncheon for the

Smokers Need More Vitamin C

Next time you reach for a pack of Kent, reach for a vitamin C-rich orange, too. Apparently, smoking reduces the body's utilization of vitamin C by 40%. This interference factor probably makes other vitamins and minerals less available to the body, also.

The smoking habit does not itself actually destroy the vitamin, but rather the vitamin becomes less likely to be absorbed into the system as a result. Thus the smoker who can't or won't stop smoking requires more C than normal.

Add a citrus fruit or a vitamin C tablet to your next "coffee and cigarette break." You may be one who needs it!
