Recreation Director Doubtful Before April

Parks and Recreation Commission members are still interviewing applicants for the full-time recreation director position but are doubtful the job will be filled before Apr. 1.

"What has happened is those that applied didn't have enough experience, or we couldn't pay them what they wanted," Mrs. Carson (Iris) Davis, Jr., said. Mrs. Davis is one of five on the screening committee.

"It's going to be a long process, we want to take time to choose the right person. We are requiring someone with experience. We have to have an administrator if we are going to start a county wide program. We need someone who knows how to start programs, who has done it before, and hunt for grants, too," she said.

"We want to have somebody by April 1. We wanted someone sooner, of course," she said. "Planning for all of the summer recreation programs will have to start by that time," she explained.

Last fall, county commissioners boosted the salary range for the director's job up to $13,000 annually. Final approval in hiring the director is left to commissioners.

Mrs. Davis said two more applicants are scheduled to be interviewed this week.

bank account.

Dupree then found Barnes not guilty.

Monday morning, Thigpen accused Barnes of referring to him as "Mr. Pigpen" repeatedly during his testimony and cross examination Friday.

"That's the first man that's ever been turned loose on it (the radar device) in this county," said Thigpen.

He said that about 400 convictions have been made in the county through the use of the device since it had been in use in Hoke County.

He said that he had been in contact with the device and its operating procedure for about two years in all.

"I calibrate the device after everyone I stop to make sure it is right," he said.

"The device, to my knowledge, has never been wrong," he added.

Thigpen explained that the device replaced the VASCAR system because the new device eliminated the chance of human error.

"It's the most modern piece of speed detecting equipment the state has. If something is wrong, with it, it won't register anything," he said.

"If that's what the courts are going to say about all the speeding cases that involve this device, what are you going to do about the rest of them?" he asked.

"If that's the ruling, you might as well take the device and throw it out the window," he said.

"If I've got enough nerve to charge them using the device, the court should have enough nerve to enforce it," he said.

"The radar device costs about $2,400. That's just about the price of a car," he concluded.

Bond Sales Rising

Sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds in Hoke County during the fourth quarter of 1975 were $81,332. Total sales for 1975 were $318,043. This represents 100.8 percent of their goal of $315,520, according to F.G. Williams, County Volunteer Chairman.

Total cash sales of E and H Bonds for the past year in North Carolina were $97,910,586, which represents 99.3 percent of the state's dollar goal of $98,600,000. Of that amount, $25,032,635 was sold in the fourth quarter.

Nationally, United States Savings Bonds sales hit a record high of more than $7 billion during 1975. Total year-end holdings of Series E and H Bonds were $67.5 billion. Including Freedom Shares - which were withdrawn from sale in 1970 - the total adds up to $67.9 billion.
