Mrs. Norris Is Honored At Retirement Luncheon

At 11:30 AM February 13, sixty-five well wishing friends and various relatives gathered in the Sink Room of the Fort Bragg Officers' Open Mess to honor Mrs. Marguerite W. Norris of 828 East Prospect Avenue, Raeford, NC, who is retiring with over 35 years of Federal Civilian Service. Mrs. Norris has served with the Signal Corps for most of her career and is presently the Administrative Officer at US Army Communications Command (USACC) Agency-Ft. Bragg/Installation Communications-Electronics (C-E) Office.

Among guests present and seated at the head table were: Richard Norris, her husband; Mrs. S.E. Stewart, her sister of Fayetteville; Mr. and Mrs. Burnice Williamson of Rt. 2, Raeford, her brother and sister-in-law; Colonel E.D. "Sam" Rogers, Assistance Chief of Staff, Communications-Electronics, Ft. Bragg; and, CPT Salvatore R. Genova, Commander, USACC Agency-Ft. Bragg/Installation C-E Officer. Floral arrangement for the head table consisted of twelve dark red sweetheart roses set in fern and interspersed with small red velvet beaded hearts and cupid's. Mrs. Norris was presented with a bicentennial corsage of red, white and blue earlier in the day.

Guests were invited to enjoy liquid appetizers and, after socializing, dined on a delicious lunch of broiled chicken, snowflake potatoes, buttered green peas, tossed salad, and lime sherbert.

Mrs. Norris' career began in September, 1941, when she was temporarily employed as an Under Clerk/Typist, CAF-1. She has seen many good changes at Fort Bragg and in Communications since 1941 and has served under 27 different Commanding Generals. Through diligence, devotion to duty and just plain hard work, Mrs. Norris has attained her present position as a GS-11. She has served as an inspiration to those in lower grades of the Civil Service System and has been an outstanding employee.

CPT Genova, her immediate supervisor, first called upon Mr. Gary R. Peoples, Chief, Logistics Division. Mr. Peoples presented Mrs. Norris with a tin bucket of worms, symbolizing all those one-time reports that took up to 18 pages of typing and were never heard from again.

Next, Mr. Waylon Johnson, Chief, Air Traffic Control Division (Simmons Army Airfield), presented Mrs. Norris with inscribed aerial photos of Simmons Army Airfield and the Control Tower.

Mr. Billy Wilkins, Chief, Telephone Systems Division, brought in a pair of bisque doves. Doves were one of the first means of communications utilized by the Signal Corps. He also presented her with an innovative wooden plaque. Mrs. Betty Cashwell, Administrative Management Division and Chief, Budgets Branch, presented her with an engraved sterling serving tray.

CW4 Jeffrey L. Jackson, Jr., Officer-in-Charge, Telecommunications Center Division, made a presentation of a decorative sterling dish.

Norris, presented her with a handmade leather purse.

Last, but not least, CPT Genova bestowed upon her a sterling charm bracelet which contained charms representing each division - a typewriter for Administrative/Management Division, a telephone for Telephone Systems Division, a pencil for Logistics Division, an airplane for Air Traffic Control Division, and an IBM punched card for Telecommunications Center Division. He also presented her with a Certificate of Achievement and an Outstanding Performance Certificate.

In closing, Mrs. Norris extended a humble thank you to everyone who helped make her career so successful. It was with sadness the "first lady" of USACC Agency - Ft. Bragg was bid a fond farewell.
