Paint Peeling? Here's A Tip

By Willie Featherstone, Jr.
Ass't. Agricultural Agent

Here are tips and suggestions on how to correct a common paint problem. This is the second in a series of articles giving instructions to correct many of the paint problems around the house.

PEELING OF PAINT UNDER THE OVERHANG OF A ROOF: 1) Paint sometimes peels in spots under the overhang of a roof or in other areas of a house that are protected from weather. Such peeling is normally caused by a build-up "salt" deposits which would normally be washed away by rain in exposed areas. 2) To correct this problem, remove the old peeling paint by sanding the surface thoroughly. 3) After sanding, prepare a solution of three heaping table-spoons of any good powdered detergent to one gallon of water. Wash the sanded surface with this solution. Rinse with clear water and allow to dry. 4) After the surface is thoroughly dry, apply two coats of a good grade of under-coating paint. 5) After the under-coat has thoroughly dried, apply one good coat of a top quality house paint. Under some conditions, two finished coats may also be required. This treatment normally corrects the peeling conditions.

FSU Receives Grant

The Continuing Education Center at Fayetteville State University has been awarded a grant in the amount of $107,064, including 25 per cent in local matching funds, from the Division of Social Services, Department of Human Resources under Title XX for day care staff development.

The grant, which is for a six month period ending June 30, 1976, is part of a project expected to meet the basic need for staff training within 13 counties in Region III.

Within the 13 counties there are 25 certified day care centers and 12 centers pursuing certification. It is estimated that 200 persons will be included in the training to be held at three sites within the counties.

The project will be under the supervision of Dr. James C. Edmundson, Jr., director of studies and reporting services, Fayetteville State University.

The curriculum for the project will include six major workshops: health education, physical education, creative art, behavior management, child development, and management.

campaigning in the state. Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr. of Texas remains on the ballot, although he has withdrawn from the presidential race.

On the ballot issues, supporters of the amendment number two, which would permit the sale of industrial revenue bonds, are hoping the measure will win passage this time, after being defeated twice before.

The Hoke County Board of Commissioners endorsed passage of the measure, and on Tuesday, directors of the Raeford-Hoke Chamber of Commerce voted to endorse it along with amendment number one, which would permit the state to sell revenue bonds to finance health care facilities, and the $47 million general obligation bond issue for higher education.

Although both Republican and Democratic state executive committees have endorsed approval of the ballot issues, the Hoke County Democrats did not take an official stand at their convention earlier this month.

The Hoke County ABC store will be closed all day Tuesday.

Debnam said he thought the basis for Mrs. Sweet's complaint that the program was "doing nothing" was really just a misunderstanding.

"I think it was her misinterpretation of what a family planning practitioner is. They do more than just clinical work, she may have felt she should have been in a clinic five days a week, but clinical work is just a very small fraction of it", he said.

"I have very high praise for Otha, she is very good at her work. We were in the process of working this all out, and hoping to expand the clinics, including Hoke County", he said.

311 Weekly Health Tip

Seven out of ten headaches can be traced to tension. When the delicate blood vessels surrounding your brain become enlarged, they press against your nerves and a headache pain results. Tension - the contraction of skeletal muscles about the face, scalp, neck and shoulders - causes the blood vessel enlargement. How to relax tensions? One way: when seated, roll the head gently forward and back, then from side to side several times - then rotate the head slowly, three times in each direction. A hot bath or a long walk can also relieve tensions.

In Memoriam
W.T. and Mary L. McAllister

In loving memory of my beloved parents, W.T. and Mary L., who passed away one year ago this past October 1975.

Today and everyday recalls sad memories. Sprayed with a million tears. Wishing God could have spared them. For many, many more years. So many things to share with them. Had they been left to stay. I cannot bring the old days back. Their hands I cannot touch. But I still have precious memories of the parents I loved so much. My eyes shed many a tear. God knows how much I miss them at the end of this first year. Sadly longed for by your daughter.

Read Colossians 2:6-15

He who says he abides in him ought to walk in the same way in which he walked. (1 John 2:6, RSV) Consideration for others is very important, especially in the little ways that are available for us each day--

- *a word of thanks
- *an act of friendliness
- *a kind word
- *a helpful act.

This was impressed on me recently at a birthday party for a lovely lady one hundred years old.

She sat in her wheel chair. Her friends came in and greeted her. One after another persons stood before her and shook her hand, and she raised her eyes in thanks.

Soon a retired minister came in. When he took her hand, he dropped down on one knee so that she did not have to look up; but instead she could look directly into the eyes of her friend. Here was consideration that had not occurred to the rest of us.

We can feel God's presence in the person of Jesus. Can others feel His presence as they look into our eyes and watch us live?

PRAYER: We thank Thee, our Father, for the persons in whose eyes we have seen the presence of Jesus. Help us to live so that others, looking into our eyes, will see Thy presence. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: What are we doing to help others see Jesus?
