

Gasoline Obsolete

A major invention that could possibly revolutionize modern transportation was invented in Raeford last week by a twelve year-old boy who resides on Prospect Ave.

Lockwood Ames, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felhart Ames of 6408 Prospect Ave. in Raeford has invented a replacement for gasoline as a fuel for engines of automobiles.

Young Ames explained that water with a teaspoon of salt and a touch of honey will act as a fuel when mixed in the proper quantities.

He said if the person using the new fuel wanted to obtain better mileage, he could add some tooth paste so it would hold together better, and last longer.

Ames said the new fuel has been tried out in several different sizes and kinds of cars and the results were amazing.

"I can't believe someone hasn't come up with this mixture before now. Of course, I will not release the correct formula for the new fuel until all the major oil companies hand in their bids for the invention," he said.

He said he expects to make millions and will probably buy Raeford and turn it into a plant to make the fuel after it has been bought.

"The new fuel will be very cheap and possibly might be made into a fuel that could be used for heating and air conditioning later," he said.

Ames said he had not decided what he was going to call his invention.

"I don't know what I will call it yet, but it will probably be something like sloof lirpa," he concluded.

Deliver me, O Lord, from lying lips, from a deceitful tongue. (Psalm 120:2, RSV)

Crash! Jimmy stood amid the ruins of my favorite potted geranium plant. "It was an accident. Mom," he sobbed. "I didn't mean to break it, honest to God!"

Honest to God. The words echoed in my ears. They'd come from ten-year-old Jimmy's heart, but how many times had I heard the same expression -- when it was just a casual phrase! Are any of us ever really honest to God?

When we've committed a wrong, are we praying because we are sorry, or are we saying, "Make things all right again so I don't suffer the consequences?" Do we rationalize God's word? Do we deceive ourselves by our busyness rather than living as disciples? In seeking specific blessings, do we pray "gimme" prayers, or are we genuinely prepared to accept God's will?

It's perilously easy to fall into the dishonesty trap -- to deceive ourselves and others. But Jimmy's assertion of good faith had recalled a truth. There is One who reads our innermost thoughts and rationalizations, who knows our deceptions even better than we do. God will never deceive us, but are we honest with Him?

PRAYER: O God, show us the dishonesty in our lives and lead us into Your truth. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Isn't it time to be honest with God?

RUBBLE STILL LEFT - The rubble of a mobile home wrecked by the March 24, 1975 tornado is still left in a field just beyond the West Hoke Trailer Park, a reminder of the powerful storm which touched down almost without warning.
