

Field Grows To Six For Register Race

The final candidate in a field of six filed just before the Friday deadline for the Register of Deeds post.

W. Glenn Maxwell, 48, former supervisor of the food stamp program for the Hoke County Department of Social Services, filed before the noon deadline Friday.

"I do feel like I'm qualified for the job," said the Hoke County native.

Maxwell, a graduate of Hoke County High School and N.C. State University with a B.S. degree in agronomy, worked for nine years with the North Carolina Extension Service as an assistant county agent in Johnston County and tobacco specialist with N.C. State University.

He then worked for twelve years as a sales and technical representative and sales manager in the agricultural chemistry.

In 1972, he moved back to Hoke County.

Maxwell is married to the former Mildred Sinclair of the Ashley Heights area and they have three sons, Alan, Eric, and Barry who lives in Florida.

He served two years during World War II in the Navy between high school and college.

"Several of my friends have come to me and expressed their desire for me to run and that is why I'm doing so," he said.

"I've been working for and with the public for the past 20 years, and I feel I could do a good job serving the public," he concluded.

Maxwell joins Hazel Niven, William Altman, Frances Ward Greene, Della Maynor, and Beatrice Harris all of whom had filed earlier in the race for the Register of Deeds slot.

Housing Tips

Edison recommends a minimum EER of 8.

When starting your air conditioner, do not set the thermostat lower than normal for you. Doing so will not cool your house any faster. Adjust the thermostat to a setting at which your family feels comfortable and leave it there.

If you have central air conditioning with an outside condenser, make sure leaves, grass and other objects are kept clean of the unit - otherwise the unit's operation will be hampered. Properly insulating sidewalls and ceiling area, as well as weatherstripping doors and caulking windows, will help keep cool air in and hot air out. Periodically dust or vacuum the grill and condenser front on your air conditioner.

Turn on exhaust fan or open bathroom window when bathing - this will keep the added heat and humidity from the other parts of your home.

Frequently check air condition filter for dirt. Clean and replace as recommended by manufacturer.

Lighting Tips - Fluorescent lights give off more lumens per watt (units of light) and use less electricity than incandescent bulbs used for the same purpose. The efficiency of incandescent light bulbs increases as the wattage increases. This means you receive more lumens per watt from higher wattage bulbs. For example, one 100 watt bulb produces approximately the same amount of light as two 60 watt bulbs.

KEEPING COOL IN THE SUMMER

Closing drapes, blinds and curtains or installing awnings on windows facing the sun can cut the amount of heat coming into your house.

Using a kitchen exhaust fan will carry away cooking odors, as well as the heat and moisture.

When buying a new air conditioner, check its efficiency by determining the energy efficiency ratio (EER). The EER is the amount of cooling you get for the amount of electricity used. To find the EER for a particular model, divide the model's capacity (BTU's) by the energy it uses (Watts). The higher the EER, the more cooling you get for the energy used. Ohio

Accent On Agriculture

It took the average taxpayer from January 1 until May 1 to earn enough money to fulfill his tax obligations for the year, according to figures from the Tax Foundation. In other words, you had to work four months a day to pay for all your governmental services for 1976.

For those who like to take things one day at a time, here's another way to look at your taxes. The bite amounts to 2 hours and 39 minutes out of your earnings for every eight-hour work day, five days a week, 50 weeks a year. That's four minutes more per day than it took in 1975.

Your typical taxpayer in 1976 must work one hour and 41 minutes a day for Washington, and 58 minutes a day for state and local government. Taxes comprise the largest single item in the average family's budget.

By contrast, about one hour and five minutes of your work day earned the money to buy groceries and beverages.

It takes about 1 hour and 32 minutes to take care of all housing costs. Total expenses for transportation takes around 39 minutes of the paycheck. Medical care takes 25 minutes.
