College News

Sharon Lynn Currie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin R. Currie of 207 Roberts St., graduated May 16 from Appalachian State University in Boone, receiving the master of arts degree with a major in music education and a double minor in music supervision in the public school system and junior college curriculum.

(Two year earlier Miss Currie graduated from ASU with the bachelor of music degree. As a music education major, Miss Currie's principal instrument is piano, with voice as her secondary instrument.)

While Miss Currie was working towards her master of arts degree, she was a graduate assistant, teaching piano keyboard skills in classroom piano to undergraduate music majors. In addition to her responsibilities as a graduate student and a staff member, she not only has been the piano accompanist for both students and faculty members in a variety of concerts, recitals and clinics, but has successfully maintained a private piano studio.

During her six years on the Appalachian State University campus, Miss Currie has been an active member of the University Singers, Women's Glee Club, the Boone Choral Society, the Music Education National Conference, Sigma Alpha Iota (a National Music fraternity for women), Pi Kappa Lambda (a National Music honor society), ASU's Marching Band and has been a member of the Chancel Choir of the First Baptist Church in Boone. She also worked for two summers as a counselor and choral accompanist with the Cannon Music Camp, a camp for serious music students which is held on the ASU campus.

Miss Currie, who has been a continuous dean's list student, was awarded the Sword of Honor from Sigma Alpha Iota, was initiated into Pi Kappa Lambda and was voted and served one year as "Sweetheart" of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia.

Miss Currie will leave later this summer for Warrington, Va., where she has accepted a position with the Fauquier County School System.

Barbara Currie, daughter of Mrs. James G. Currie and the late James G. Currie, was graduated from Florida Atlantic University with a degree in education. Miss Currie is the niece of Ellen Currie of Raeford.

Jimmy Autry, a rising senior at Pembroke State University, has been awarded a journalism scholarship in the amount of $600 from the Scripps - Howard Foundation of New York.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S.J. Autry, formerly of Raeford.

Elizabeth Sue Ivey received a B.A. degree in history during commencement exercises at East Carolina University.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard "Doc" Ivey.

Janet Collins Creswell, daughter of Leslie D. Creswell, Rt. 2, Raeford, was named to the spring semester dean's list at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill.

Charles F. Williamson and David S. Wood were named to the honor rolls at Elon College for the spring semester.

Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Williamson, Rt. 1, Raeford, made the 'B' dean's list. Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Wood, Jr., 835 E. Prospect Ave., Raeford, made the 'A' dean's list.

Joanne Hottel of Raeford was named to the dean's list at Atlantic Christian College for the spring semester. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hottel.

If you plan a camping trip, take along a first-aid kit and manual - learn the essentials of first aid. Don't trust any surface water, no matter how clear and clean it looks. Drink only approved water, or boil or treat the water with purifying tablets. Bury all garbage; locate your latrine on a slope away from water. Don't over-exert yourself, especially at mountain altitudes. A physical checkup before you go is advisable.

Team Shows Aircraft

On Saturday, June 19, the Raeford Municipal Airport was visited by an aircraft demonstration team from Aerosport, Inc. of Holly Springs, N.C.

Demonstrated were two new aircraft developed by Aerosport. A single place, open-cockpit sport bi-plane, called the Scamp, was flown by William Poole and Paul Rose, both rating it very highly. Also shown was the Quail, a cross-country monoplane.

Pilots from Fayetteville, Ft. Bragg and Raeford area were given the opportunity to test the new aircraft. The members of the team were kept busy explaining the advantages of the new aircraft and briefing the pilots who wished to verify their claims in the air.

The demonstration team was hosted by the Raeford chapter of the Experimental Aircraft Association and Rose Aviation, Inc.

No Hot Contest Shaping Up For Water And Soil Office

There may be no candidates on the November ballot for the office of soil and water conservation supervisor unless someone files by the July 2 deadline.

County board of elections secretary Rose Sturgeon reported Friday she had no takers for the non-partisan post. Incumbent Robert (Bobby) Strother, whose two year term ends this year, has not filed for re-election yet.

Two other incumbent supervisors were elected to four year terms in 1974.

Filing fee for candidates for soil and water conservation supervisor is $5.

Have you checked your pressure canner gauge this year? If not you need to have it done now. Raeford hardware has the equipment to check your gauge.

OPEN-KETTLE

There just aren't any shortcuts when it comes to canning foods the safe way. And that's why we can't recommend the open kettle method of canning.

You may have tried the open kettle method and had good luck with it. But there's no guarantee that you'll have good luck with it this canning season.

Here's why. Heat - resistant bacteria aren't always present in the foods you carry home for canning. But if they do happen to be around, the food will probably spoil unless you use safe canning methods.

The drawback to the open kettle method of canning is that it seldom sterilizes food. And without sufficient heat to sterilize food -- spoilage can result. Or the food might become contaminated with spoilage organisms on the way from kettle to jar. If that happens, the food will spoil - even if you've gotten a good seal.

It adds up to this. Open - kettle canning is no substitute for the pressure canner and the boiling water bath.

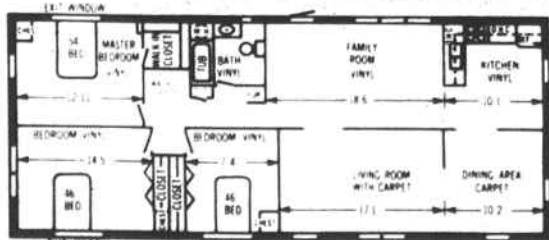

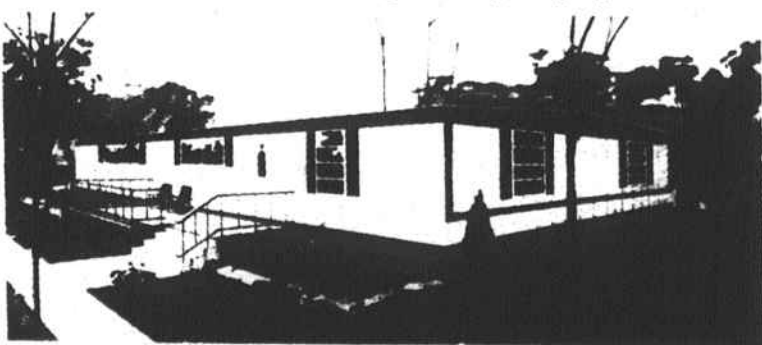

Mrs. Cindy Stone Pribble has been named to the dean's academic honor list at Pfeiffer College for the spring semester.
