4-H Corner

Three Hoke County 4-H'ers were named as District 4-H winners at the South Central District 4-H Activity Day held at Pembroke High School.

Jimmy Turner of Quewhiffle 4-H Club won in poultry barbecue. Angela Strother, also from Quewhiffle, took first place in the Junior Open Class demonstration. The champion in archery was Bill Barnwell, a senior teen 4-H club member. The 4-H'ers will represent the South Central District in the state competition during N.C. 4-H Congress.

Robert Attaway of the Senior Teen Club was named runner-up in Automotive Skill Driving and received a blue ribbon. A blue ribbon also went to Amy Hemmens of Quewhiffle 4-H Club for her talent act.

Red ribbons were awarded to Deena Pratt of Antioch Eager Beavers for her breads demonstration; Linda Croft, a Quewhiffle 4-H Club member, in the Senior Open Class demonstration; and to Richard Cole of Quewhiffle in Beef Char-Grill. Also participating in the District Talent Show were Donna Holland, Raeford Junior 4-H Club, and Brian Foster, Quewhiffle.

Hoke County 4-H'ers came in second place in the District scrapbook contest. Debbie McNeill took the leadership in compiling the scrapbook of the past year's activities.

From The Home Agent's Desk

Sheer fabrics are beautiful for summer dresses and blouses, but they can present special problems. One consideration is how the seam of a set-in sleeve can be finished to give a neat appearance. Depending upon the fabric, there are two acceptable ways of finishing a set-in sleeve seam.

1. In a fabric that does not ravel excessively (most voiles, bastistes, for example) the armhole seam can be finished using a double-stitched seam. For a double stitched seam construct a plain 5/8" seam. Then stitch again 1/8" away in the seam allowance. Trim seam allowance to 1/8" of second stitching row. This is an acceptable finish for casual styles.

2. For ravelly sheers (many chiffons, organzas, for example) use a self-bound seam. To construct, make a plain seam. Trim sleeve cap seam allowance to 1/8" or 1/4". Turn the edge of the other seam allowance under, and slipstitch over the seam, catching at the stitch line. This encases the trimmed seam allowance.

School Administrators To Attend Conference

Hoke County School Supt. G. Raz Autry and Asst. Supt. Ernest Sutton and Asst. Supt. J.D. McAllister will attend the State Superintendent's Conference for Administrators July 14 - 21 in Asheville.

About 1,500 public school administrators from across the state are expected to meet at the Great Smokies Hilton, conference headquarters.

According to State Supt. of Public Instruction A. Craig Phillips, the annual meet provides an opportunity to bring administrators up to date on the latest laws and policies affecting public schools, services available and issues and trends in education.

Fifteen workshops covering a wide range of topics are slated.

Q -- How do I get a VA business loan?

A -- The VA has not administered business loans for several years. The Small Business Administration offers loan funds for eligible veterans.
