to sightsee. "I went everywhere with my roommates. There were twelve of us from the USA in one room. I knew most of them from other meets and from the trials in Oregon. We went down to Old Montreal and saw the horse and buggies and we rode the new Metro. Mostly we just stayed in the Village," she added.

Kathy said that she didn't meet many celebrities other than the athletes themselves. "I did get Howard Cosell's autograph," she explained. "And, I got Sugar Ray Leonard's too. I really like Sugar Ray. He showed me a big knot on his knuckle. He was really in pain when he was fighting. Cosell? He was just like anybody else."

Other than a constantly ringing telephone, the McMillan household is pretty much back to normal. Kathy is already working out for the Olympic gold she plans to win. Among the "encouraged" young athletes of Hoke County is Kathy's 14-year-old sister, Sharon. She has her sights set on a place on the Olympic women's basketball team. Perhaps Raeford will someday be doubly blessed as the home of the McMillan sisters.

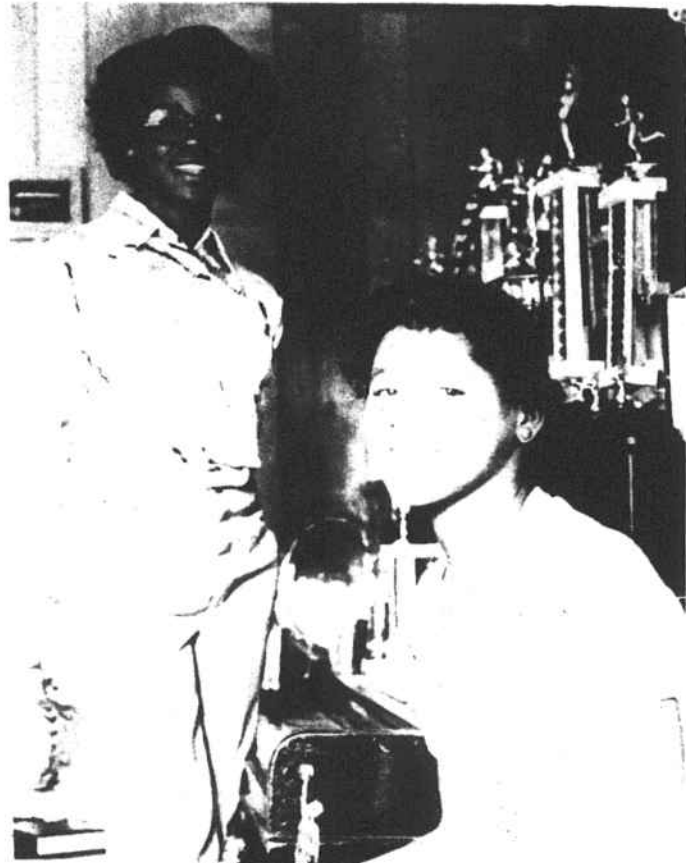

capture in Moscow. All those hours of practicing alone, over and over again have paid off. Kathy says she has been trying to encourage all the younger girls to keep pushing themselves. She gives Coach Bill Colston credit for keeping her going through the long hours of practice. "One day four years ago Coach Colston said to me 'If you keep practicing even after track season is over you might make it to the Olympics,'" Kathy recalled. "He's the one who kept me going when I just thought I couldn't do it any better," she said.

PARENTS—Happy over their daughter's victory in Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McMillan Sr. said that it was during the Junior Olympics two years ago that they first began to believe that daughter, Kathy, 18, was a champion in the making.

PROUD SISTER—Evelyn McMillan proudly shows one of the welcome signs put up in town to welcome her sister Kathy home. Evelyn said that during the festivities Saturday that Kathy had jokingly asked her to sign autographs so that she could rest awhile.

ASPIRING ATHLETES—Kathy and Sharon McMillan are both planning to make the next Olympic team. Kathy is shooting for a gold medal in the Moscow long jump, and Sharon hopes to improve her basketball skills enough to make the team.

TROPHIES—Kathy McMillan adds another award to her collection of track trophies atop the family piano. The second place silver medal from the Montreal Olympics gave Kathy some trouble when she first received it. So many fans wanted to touch it that the link on top of the medal became unscrewed and bent, and then had to be replaced.
