N.C. Humanities Committee Awards Grant To Libraries

The North Carolina Humanities Committee has awarded a $3,735 grant to the Sandhill Regional Library System to sponsor a program discussing government support of the arts and humanities.

Director of Libraries William G.
Bridgman announced the award and said the program will be presented in a three-part series.
Featured speakers will be Dr.
George L. Fouke, St. Andrews College; Sam Ragan, editor of The Pilot, Southern Pines; and Dr.
R.W. Reising, Pembroke State University.

The series will also involve local people in the open forum discussion of federal, state, and local government's role in financial and other support of the arts and humanities.

The series will be presented in each of the five counties of the Sandhill Region: Anson, Hoke, Montgomery, Moore and Richmond. The Hoke County program will take place in January and February at the Hoke County Library. The programs will be free of charge and open to the public.

The North Carolina Humanities
Committee has awarded five previous grants to the Sandhill Regional Library System.
