Mosley-Graham Vows Spoken

Miss Lorraine Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Graham, and Brynn Lloyd Mosley, son of Mrs. Eugenia Mosley, were united in marriage Saturday, December 11, in a 2:00 p.m. ceremony at Rockfish F.W.B. Church.

Rev. Robert Douglas performed the ceremony, and music was provided by Russell McAllister and Mrs. Gloria McLaughlin.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown trimmed in Venice lace and matching veil designed by her mother. She carried a bouquet of roses and babies' breath.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Gwendolyn Anderson. She wore a red gown and cape with a white hat and carried red and white mums.

Bridesmaids were Annie F. Burney, Patricia Campbell, Alice F. McNair, all of Raeford; and Helen Gilchrist and Renee Murphy, both of Fayetteville. They wore red gowns with white capes and white hats and carried white mums.

Flower girls were Tammy Graham and Carmelita Haley. They wore red gowns with capes trimmed in lace.

The mothers wore red and white gowns.

Nathaniel Miller of Fayetteville served as best man. Ushers were Calvin Bronson, Hervon McCollum, all of Raeford; and Isaac McNeill, Willie Melvin, and William Mosley, all of Fayetteville.

Ring bearer was Darrick Graham.

The reception, catered by Guy Morris, was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony.

A graduate of Hoke County and North Carolina Central University, the bride is employed as an Adult Basic Education Instructor by Sandhills Community College.

The bridegroom is a Civil Service employee in the Aviation Safety Branch located at Simmons Army Air Field in Fort Bragg.

The couple will make their home in Fayetteville.

McDiarmid - Maxey

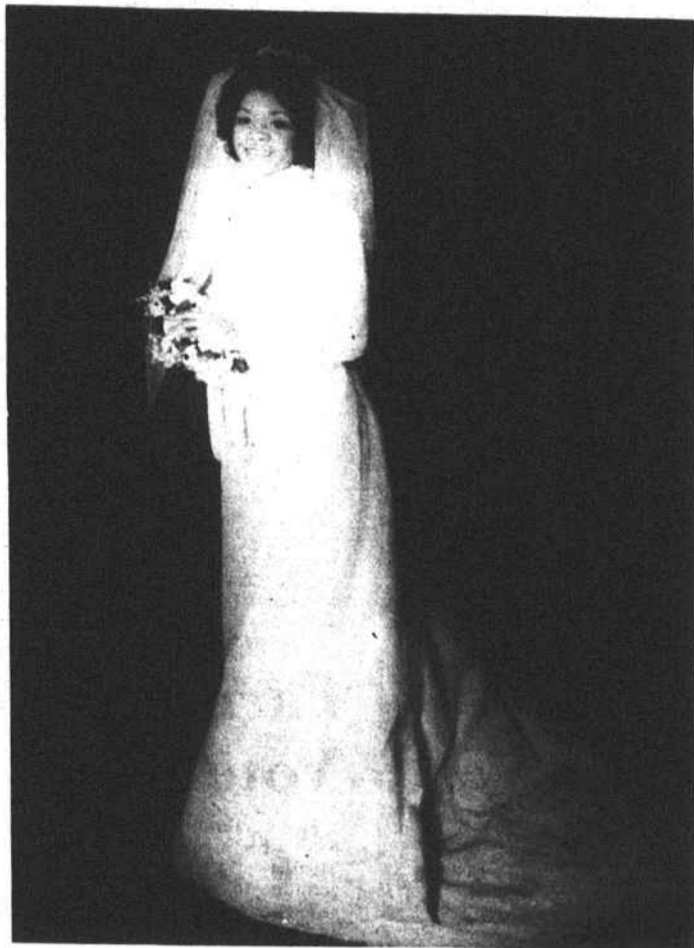

Miss Suzanne Maxey and James McDiarmid, Jr., were united in marriage on December 12 in Maroi Hill Presbyterian Church, Dunedin, New Zealand.

Mr. McDiarmid is the son of Mrs. James McDiarmid of Rosemont, Pa., and the late Mr. McDiarmid. He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. G.W. Williamson of Raeford.

They will make their home in Dunedin, New Zealand, where Mr. McDiarmid is a teacher and Mrs. McDiarmid is in medical school.
