Physician Welcomed

Over two hundred people welcomed Dr. Ramnik Zota and his family Sunday during a reception in the afternoon at the Raeford Civic Center.

The affair was hosted by the Hoke County Medical Betterment Association to give area residents a chance to meet the physician who will open his office here May 1. The wives of the city's two doctors, Mrs. R.G. Townsend and Mrs. R.M. Jordan, assisted in pouring refreshments.

Dr. Zota, a native of India and currently on the staff of McCain Hospital, will begin a family practice from offices on Campus Ave. He lives in Fayetteville with his wife Lata and their two year-old daughter.

The Hoke County Medical Betterment Association is a non-profit group organized to recruit medical personnel to the county. Frank Baker is president and Wyatt Upchurch is vice-president.

Extension Chairman Honored

Wendell S. Young, Hoke County extension chairman, was honored in Raleigh Monday for 25 years of service with the N.C. Agricultural Extension Service.

Young was presented a certificate and a tie pin by Dr. George Hyatt Jr., Extension Service director. The presentation was made during the annual conference of the Extension Service at McKimmon Extension Education Center on the North Carolina State University campus.

A native of Forest City, Young was a dairy fieldman and dairy plant manager in Sparta before joining the Extension Service in Sampson County in 1953. He moved to Hoke County in 1963, when he was made county extension chairman.

Young served with the U.S. Army in World War II.

Sign Up For 'Roots'

Response has been slow for the genealogy class announced by the Parks and Recreation Commission and if more people don't sign up to learn their 'Roots', the class will be cancelled.

The class, jointly sponsored by Sandhills Community College, will cost $5. Date and time of meeting will be announced later.

For further information, contact the recreation office at 875-5603.
