Man Jailed In Weapon Assault

A county man was arrested Sunday and jailed on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill in connection with the beating of George Hollingsworth of Rt. 1, Raeford.

Hollingsworth was struck in the head by a blunt object about noon on June 8 and taken to Moore Memorial Hospital where he underwent surgery, according to deputies. James A. Maynor, 43, of Rt. 4, Red Springs, was picked up Sunday and jailed in lieu of $5,000 bond to await a June 24 appearance.

Two men were jailed on charges of breaking and entering and larceny following a break-in at the residence of Benjamin Kemp in the Jones Hill section on June 8. Steve McLaughlin, 17, no address listed, and Horace McLean (alias Pee Wee), 20, no address listed, were jailed in lieu of $1,000 bonds each. A June 24 appearance was set.

Kemp reported that a television, radio and other items worth $215 were stolen from his home.

Deputies arrested Billy McCain, 30, of Rt. 4, Raeford, and charged him in connection with two break-ins at Locklear's 76 Station on U.S. 401-business. Lonnie Locklear reported that the station was entered June 5 and a quantity of wine was taken and another break-in occurred June 12, deputies said.

McCain was jailed under $5,000 bond to await a June 24 appearance.

Preston Ross, Fayetteville, notified deputies that a break-in had occurred June 1 at the New Hope Temple on Bethel Rd. Music equipment valued at $1,680 was taken by the intruders, according to deputies. No arrests have been made.

William C. Hales, Rt. 4, Box 145, Raeford, reported that $6 in pennies and $400 worth of bad checks were missing from his grocery. Deputies on patrol discovered the door window broken about 3:30 a.m. June 9 and notified Hales. Apparently nothing else was disturbed, according to the report.

Butch Posey, Rt. 2, Box 270-A, Raeford, reported that a water pump and tank was stolen sometime between June 6 and June 10 from Phillipi Church. The pump was valued at $230 and damage to the pump house was estimated at $125, according to a report filed.

In the city, last Friday two teachers reported that a sharp object had been used to scratch the paint on their cars parked at the high school. Damage to a 1974 Chevrolet belonging to Ethel W. Callender of Fayetteville was estimated at $150. Damage to a vehicle belonging to Carrie L. Hampton of Fayetteville was listed at $50.

Raeford Auto Company's mobile office on US 401-bypass was broken into Friday. Thieves took the keys to a 1977 red, four-wheel drive Ford pickup truck, model F-150. The vehicle has not been recovered yet. No arrests have been made.

Billy Black told police Monday that someone had forcibly entered a trailer at 217 Lamont and taken a camper-type Panasonic television and radio valued at $159. The property was recovered and warrants were drawn Tuesday. Police said two or three suspects will be charged in connection with the theft.

Bessie L. Blue, 201 Lamont, informed police Saturday that an 18" color television valued at $409 had been taken from her trailer.

Harold Teal, 219 Wright St. complained June 9 that a $70 aluminum ladder had been taken off the back of his truck while it was parked in an alley on the west side of town.

Ex-Hoke Teacher Appointed

Dr. Gerald D. Maynor former Hoke County teacher, has been named Dean of Student Affairs at Pembroke State University, replacing Dr. James B. Chavis, who was named earlier this month as Chief Ombudsman for North Carolina by Gov. Jim Hunt.

Since last August, Dr. Maynor has been serving as Director of Development and Public Affairs for PSU.

Prior to that he was Director of Student Teaching, being appointed in that position in January, 1975.

Dr. Maynor joined the PSU faculty in 1973 as a professor in the Education Department.

A native of Pembroke, the 42-year-old Maynor earned his B.A. in social studies from Pembroke State University in 1959, his M.A. in guidance and counseling from Appalachian State University in 1966, and his doctorate in education administration from the University of Miami in 1974. While at the University of Miami, he was the recipient of an American Indian Scholarship and also a grant from the National Leadership Training Program.

Dr. Maynor is a member of the N.C. Personnel and Guidance Association, the American Personnel and Guidance Association and the N.C. Association for Educators.

Prior to his joining the faculty of PSU, he was a teacher at Maryland Training School for Boys in Baltimore from 1959 - 63, at Hawkeye High School in Hoke County from 1963 - 68 and at Hoke County High School in Raeford from 1968 - 71.

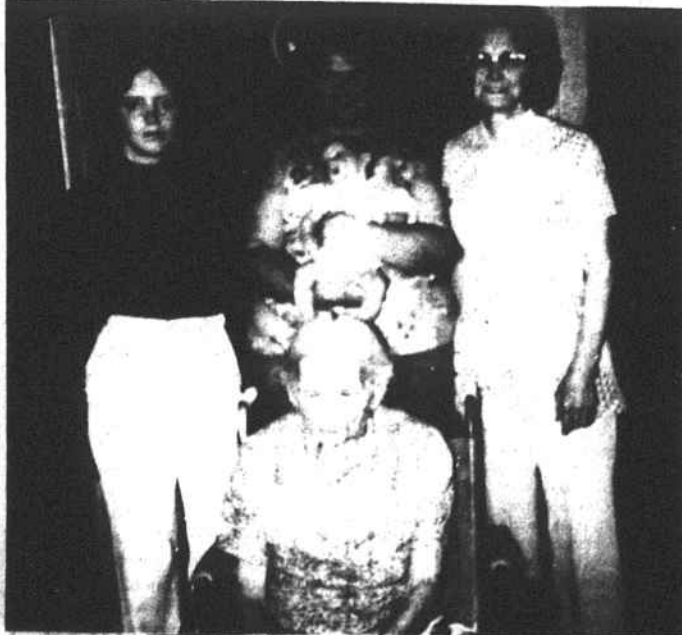

Dr. Maynor is married to the former Annie Ruth Lowery of Pembroke. They have five children, Wanda, 25, Gerald Jr., 20, Myra, 18, Ramona, 16, and Gina, 14.

DISPALY -- Eloise Carter and son William arrange samples of the Recreation Department crafts to be taught in this summer's playground program. Mrs. Carter will be teaching children from age 6 up to make metal foil sculpture, foam creatures and hats, raffia weaving, pot holders, God's eyes, team banners and wall hangings. The program starts June 20. The display in the McLaughlin Company window will be left for a week. [Photo by S.H. Aplin]

SMUT -- Odell Ashburn, 710 N. Stewart St., has discovered smut in his garden. However, in this case he did not uncover a cache of girlie magazines, but rather a destructive disease caused by parasitic fungi. Producing what appears to be distorted, discolored kernels of corn, the disease has been found on three or four ears of corn in his garden. [Photo by S.H. Aplin]

Womack Hospital To Close Friday

Womack Army Hospital will close at noon on June 17 in order to give pre-camp physicals to approximately 3,000 Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) cadets.

All outpatient clinics, laboratory and X-ray facilities will be closed. The emergency room will remain open for patients with emergencies.

The pre-camp physicals will run through June 18. The hospital will resume normal operations June 20.

Col. (Dr.) Quinn H. Becker, Womack Army Hospital commander, asks the cooperation of patients and staff during this weekend.

When a backyard barbecue in a Chicago suburb was rained out, the group moved two charcoal braziers into the garage and continued the party. Within a half hour, one woman fell unconscious from monoxide gas and could not be readily revived - fifteen of the party were hospitalized. Without proper ventilation, any charcoal grilling indoors can release enough carbon monoxide to kill a person within 30 minutes.

We wish you good health.
