During the first week of practice, no pads, only helmets, were allowed. It was a week of conditioning and Head Coach John Harris admits he was pleased with the condition most of the players reported in for the start of practice.

"We had several players who were not as prepared as we had hoped, but they seem to be getting into shape now. We will continue with a strong conditioning program throughout August because we believe the early games will be won in the fourth quarter by the team that is in the best shape," Harris said.

Harris had praise for the attitude of the players during these workouts stating that "a positive attitude exists and these young men truly believe in themselves and their ability to get the job done."

The Hoke High Bucks will start season action Sept. 2 against Seventy-First High School.

Season tickets are now on sale at the high school. Contact Athletic Director John Pecora at the school for tickets or more football information.

PSU Summer Session Ends

Pembroke State University's summer school, which attracted a total of 2,116, counting both sessions, concluded Friday with students having a two-week break before returning Aug. 21-26 for the start of the fall semester.

During summer school, 1,181 students attended in the first five-week session, and 935 attended during the second session.

The fall semester begins Sunday, Aug. 21, when dormitories will be open for freshmen. On Aug. 22-23 freshman orientation will be held. On Aug. 24-25, registration for all students is scheduled, beginning each day at 8 a.m. in the Jones Health and Physical Education Center. Regular classes begin Friday, Aug. 26.

Warren Baker, admissions director of PSU, says Pembroke State "should hold its own" as far as numbers are concerned for the fall. Last fall a record 2,187 attended PSU.

"I see no significant increase nor decrease," said Baker.

The PSU Admissions Office has processed and accepted 400 applications, reported Baker, which is about the same number as last year. As for housing, Baker sees no problem for living quarters for students wishing to attend PSU this fall.
