REVIVAL PREACHER -- Vernon Tyson will lead revival services at the Parker United Methodist Church Nov. 27-30 beginning at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Tyson is pastor of the Hay Street United Methodist Church in Fayetteville. The public is invited to attend.

Methodist Revival Scheduled

Parker United Methodist Church invites friends of Hoke County to a very special revival at the church beginning Nov. 27 at 7:30 p.m.

"We feel that you will not waste a moment of your time, but instead you will be filled with a renewed heart for Christmas," said Rev. Charles Litzenger.

Vernon Tyson will provide "Words to Live By." He will be preaching four nights, Nov. 27-30, at 7:30.

"As pastor, I want to say that Vernon Tyson was my pastor during my recent illness and gave me great comfort," said Rev. Litzenger. "If you want to begin the Advent season in a neat way, come hear the pastor of Hay Street United Methodist Church in Fayetteville say a good word about the Good News."

exercises Tuesday, Nov. 15, 7:30 p.m.

Judy Shackelford, instructor, was in charge of the night's activities. The class began Sept. 13 and met once a week for the 10 week period.

The top four obedience honors went to the dogs with the highest number of accumulated points judged during the graduation exercises.

First place went to Joyce Tufts of Pinehurst with an "All American" breed. Doug Stalls of Pinehurst received second place with a Collie. Third place honor was awarded to Dr. Beth Lylerly of Fayetteville with a Border Collie. Elizabeth Bean of Fort Bragg gathered fourth place with a Weimaraner.

Other participants from the Raeford area were Kathy and Eddie Owens with two Doberman Pinschers, Mrs. Dewey McQuage with another Doberman, Don Cameron with a Wire-Haired Terrier, and the youngest participant, Kimberly McNeill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken McNeill, with a Schnauzer.

With sufficient interest, a Spring class may be scheduled. If interested in a future Dog Obedience program, give us a call and get your name on the list.
