Students Perform

Brenda Edwards' intermediate reading lab entertained the students and teachers at Scurlock School with a Thanksgiving puppet play last week.

The play, "A Feast of Thanksgiving", was presented by Mrs. Edwards' six classes. The groups of students rotated giving each group the opportunity to present the play.

Costumed students did the narration while the hand-sewn puppets performed on stage. Mrs. Edwards made costumes for the students with old clothes she acquired from the "Attic". She also adapted the hand puppets to pilgrim and Indian dress. The puppet theatre was provided by the Hoke County Parks and Recreation Department.

The students were co-ordinated backstage by Mrs. Edwards and teacher assistant Betty McMillan while Bobby Peoples and Betty Hottle worked with the background music.

After the play students were invited to ask questions. The play depicted the events of the first Thanksgiving and provided a learning experience through entertainment.

Frost Causes Accidents

Motorists who fail to clear frost from their car's windshield, side, and rear windows not only risk having or causing an accident, but they also risk receiving a traffic citation, according to Highway Patrol Commander Col. John T. Jenkins.

Jenkins pointed out that failure to clear all the frost from all car windows was not only unsafe but also a violation. North Carolina law requires the windshield, rear, and side glasses to be free from discoloration which impairs the driver's vision or creates a hazard, he said.

During this season of the year, Jenkins suggested that motorists anticipate frost and cover their car glasses at night. If they do not, they should scrape all frost from all car glasses before starting out on these frosty mornings.

Motorists attempting to reach their destination while peering through a "peep-hole" of frost can expect enforcement action by the Patrol, Jenkins said.

Hoke Highlights

They win first place don't they? Yes, once again the H.H.S. Band has proved themselves the victors. In Laurinburg last Monday the band participated in a Christmas Parade and won first place. This finished the marching season for the band. Now they will be preparing for concerts. The band winds up its season with three superior ratings, one excellent and two first place awards from parades. Congratulations Band on a job well done.

Many thanks are extended to those who participated in the charity basketball game last Wednesday. Because of enthusiasm and community awareness of students at H.H.S. this kind of project can be successful.

Congratulations to Duncan Buoyer, Kathy Williams and Dwight Oxendine on being named as candidates for a Morehead Scholarship. After the three had been screened Duncan Buoyer was chosen to represent H.H.S. Congratulations to all three students.

(Omitted last week)

Wednesday night, at seven o'clock in the MacDonald Gym there will be a charity basketball game held. Four members from various clubs, two guys and two girls, will be participating in the activity. Admission to the game is one dollar. The admission price also covers a dance which will be held following the basketball game. Everyone is urged to attend this function which will aid people in Hoke County.

Going along with the feeling of Thanksgiving, the Varsity Cheerleaders took a basket of fruit to the rest home in Raeford. Let us give these girls a hand for going beyond their duty of promoting school and becoming community involved.

Many thanks are extended to all the people who supported the Music Booster Club Bazaar and Turkey Dinner. The money raised to benefit musical organizations in Hoke County could not have been raised if not for the time music boosters spent planning, serving the food, making cakes, items for the Bazaar and encouraging their children to participate. Once again thanks for the "helping hand" the people of Hoke County gave.

Evidence of what the music organizations can do was shown last Saturday. In Hamlet, N.C. the H.H.S. Band won first place honors. This is the second year in a row that the band has walked (or marched) away with this award. Congratulations Band!
