connection with the foregoing and as are lawful under the Act, as the same may be from time to time amended."

In brief, if a Hoke County business or industry needs or wishes to expand its facilities or to institute required or desired pollution control measures that cost money (a minimum of $1 million), that business or industry may apply to the Hoke County Industrial Facilities and Pollution Control Financing Authority for the funds it needs.

If the Authority approves the application, the necessary money will then be raised through the sale of bonds, and the business or industry will realize a much lower loan-repayment cost than it would otherwise encounter if applying directly to financial institutions.

Gibson said he feels that the presence of this board in Hoke County will be attractive to industries that may consider locating here and will, in the final analysis, benefit all the people of Hoke and surrounding areas.

lung disease in Hoke County. We would like to express special thanks to the Laurinburg and Southern Railroad for use of their vacant lot at Edenborough Shopping Center, to the Raeford Jaycees for use of their tent, to The News-Journal and to WSHB for publicity and to the merchants and individuals who donated items for sale.

These people, as well as the wonderful ladies who helped collect merchandise and sell at the various points Saturday, helped to make this one of our most profitable projects.

The success of our project points out, once again, that the people of Hoke County will always support a worthy cause. Thank you again.

to hold a sale of county equipment, including several vehicles, at 11 a.m. the same day at the same place. County Commissioner Danny DeVane has advised the city manager he would serve as auctioneer for both sales free of charge.

Matthews said city employees are allowed by law to bid on the city property.

ALTERNATE

The council approved SR 1149 and 1244 as an alternate traffic route to N.C. 211. The county commissioners last week approved the alternate, proposed by the State Department of Transportation, subject to approval by the City Council, since the alternate lies within the city zoning area.

The alternate is designed to reduce truck traffic through downtown Raeford.

Matthews informed the council that state law now permits, in effect, the town to do business with any member of the council, the member concerned cannot participate in the vote, and such a transaction is limited to one year for any one councilman.

The law permits this by specifying that an incorporated of 7,500 or more population cannot do business with its councilmen.

Raeford is exempted by the change because its population is less than 7,500. The law refers to "conflict of interest" in an elected public official selling goods or services to the community he serves.

CABLEVISION

The council approved on second and final reading an increase of 50 cents in the basic service charge for the first outlet provided by Jones Intercable, Inc., for Cablevision in Raeford. The increase will make the monthly rate $7.50 effective Oct. 1.

The request for permission to increase the rate was unopposed at both council meetings at which the readings were held. Doyle Graves of Jones Intercable said the increase was needed because the company's costs of labor, materials, equipment and other things had increased.
