Eight Trials, Three Dismissals Here

Judge E. Maurice Braswell presided over a term of Superior Court last week here. District Attorney Ed Grannis prosecuted the docket. Ernest Elyne Jackson, Rt. 4 Box 53, Raeford, charged with driving under the influence second offense, entered a plea of not guilty. He was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle on a highway when the amount of alcohol in his blood was 0.10 percent or more by weight. Jackson was sentenced to six months, suspended for one year on condition that he pay a fine of $150 and costs of court, be of good behavior and violate no criminal law of the state or federal government for one year.

Dwayne Toomer McNeill, Rt. 1, Raeford, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault on a female. He was sentenced to six months, suspended for one year on condition he pay a fine of $100 and costs, be of good behavior, violate no criminal law for one year, and not assault or molest the prosecuting witness, Betty Ray.

Alice Monroe, Lot 19, North Raeford Mobile Home Park, Raeford, was ordered to pay restitution of a worthless check for $444 to the plaintiff, Raeford Auto Company, costs of court, and be of good behavior and violate no criminal law for a period of one year.

James Robert Sturdivant, Rt. 1 Box 128, Raeford, charged with driving under the influence second offense and speeding 69 in a 55 mph zone, pleaded guilty to DUI first offense and speeding 69 in a 55 mph zone. He was sentenced to five months, suspended for one year on condition that he pay a fine of $150 and cost of court, be of general good behavior and violate no criminal law for one year, surrender his operator's license and not operate a motor vehicle on a public street or highway of the State of North Carolina for one year or until lawfully licensed to do so.

William Hulett, alias William Murphy, Rt. 1 Box 315 1/2, Shannon, was in court for violating the conditions of probation imposed by the court on May 30, 1979, upon conviction on a breaking and entering and larceny charge. Judge Braswell continued the defendant's probation but under modified terms and conditions. Restitution and costs of court amounting to $715 ordered to have been paid by the defendant at a rate of $50 a month was reduced to $30 a month. Hulett was ordered to pay $80 of the arrearage immediately and the remaining $70 in arrears on Oct. 1, with other payments as ordered to begin on Oct. 1 and continue each month thereafter until paid in full. (Plaintiff in the case was J.M. Kennedy, Crossroads Grocery, Rt. 1, Shannon.)

Charged with DUI and speeding 71 in a 55 mph zone, Arthur Lee Stanback pleaded guilty to DUI. He was sentenced to 30 days, suspended for one year on condition he pay a fine of $100 and costs of court, be of good behavior and violate no criminal law for one year, surrender his operator's license for revocation, and not operate a motor vehicle on a public street or highway of North Carolina for one year except as set forth in a limited driving privilege granted by the Court. The speeding charge was dismissed.

Charged with speeding 66 in a 55 mph zone and transporting a container of alcoholic beverage on which the seal was broken, Raymond Lewis Brock, Fayetteville, pleaded guilty to speeding 58 in a 55 mph zone. He was sentenced to five days, suspended on condition he pay a $5 fine and costs of court, be of general good behavior, and violate no law for a period of one year. The transporting charge was dismissed.

Nelson Tyler, Rt. 1, Raeford, pleaded guilty to a charge of DUI second offense. He was sentenced to six months, suspended and placed on probation for one year on condition that he pay a fine of $200 and costs of court, be of general good behavior and violate no criminal law for one year, surrender his operator's license and not operate a motor vehicle on a public street or highway of North Carolina for one year or until properly licensed to do so.

A case charging Walter James Haire, Fayetteville, with speeding 63 in a 55 mph zone was dismissed with leave.

A case charging Thadeus Brooks, Jr., of Rowland, with assault on a female was dismissed at the request of the prosecuting witness as the defendant was already in prison on other charges at the time of this court.

And a case charging Joseph Allen Green, Rt. 2 Box 501, Raeford, with careless and reckless driving after drinking was dismissed for the reason that there was insufficient evidence to warrant prosecution.

Farm Items

by W.S. Young
County Extension Chairman and Larry Locklear, Asst.
Agricultural Extension Agent

The Extension office is having calls about grub damage to home and commercial turf in the Hoke County area.

These grubs are Japanese Beetle, Green June Beetle, Northern Masked Chafer and Southern Masked Chafer, and possibly several other types. With the removal of the chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides the timing of materials has become most important in control.

Presently available materials for grub control are Diazinon, Proxol, Dylox, Sevin and Dursban, which are all short lived materials. The best time to apply these insecticides in North Carolina is in the early spring or from early fall until the last of October.

We saw an increase in Japanese beetles this year and you can expect more in the future. Now is the easiest time to control them while they are in the grub form.

Hoke County beef producers are marketing their calves through organized and graded sales during the month of September. Sales are held in Clinton, N.C. and Laurel Hill, N.C. Producers that have entered cattle are Mr. Tom McBryde, Mr. Thomas Ray and Mr. H.C. Gillis. They usually receive higher prices in the graded sales each year. This also provides a place for 4-H members to purchase good calves for their steer projects during the winter months. We are glad to participate in this marketing procedure.

DEFOLIATION AND DIAPAUSE WEEVIL CONTROL

Since insecticide application is essential in the cotton areas of North Carolina during early August and September for boll protection two or three applications should be applied at two - to - three week intervals for the diapause control of the boll weevil.

Prior to overwintering the boll weevil undergoes certain changes. The boll weevil accumulates excess body fat and ceases to reproduce which helps it survive the winter without food.

Diapausing continues until the food supply is destroyed either by a killing frost, chemical means, or stalk destruction. The purpose is to break the life cycle and reduce overwintering weevils. By following this approach you can reduce boll weevil population by as much as 90%.

For effective diapause control, treat every field in a given area. Start treatment at the onset of diapause and continue until fields no longer afford the boll weevil food and breeding sites.

You should start your defoliation when plants have reached maximum growth and 85% or more of all bolls are mature. Make sure you have a good full day of good weather for best results.

You will need to apply defoliate 10 to 12 days before harvesting begins.

Remember that a poor job of defoliating will lower cotton quality and defoliating too early will increase immature fibers, cut lint yields and lower seed quality. Keep in mind we are hoping for 100% participation in our R-9-P program in the county. All you farmers, agri-businessmen, non-farmers and housewives make sure that those tobacco farmers are removing those nine pests from those tobacco fields. Remember that ASCS is paying $4 per acre for planting a cover crop.

New People At Burlington

Daniel (Dan) A Morelli, Jr., joined the Raeford Plant at Burlington Industries on March 5, as industrial engineer.

He is a native of Winston-Salem, and attended Parkland High there. Morelli graduated from Appalachian State University in 1970 with a B.S. degree in math. After graduation, he taught in public schools in Winston-Salem and Darlington, S.C., for five years before joining industry.

Morelli came to the Raeford Plant from J.P. Stevens, Inc. He is single and lives in Fayetteville.
