'No Longer Alone' To Be Shown

"No Longer Alone," winner of three film industry awards, will be shown on October 26, at First Baptist Church in Raeford.

The showing, open to the public free of charge, is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

The film, a true story, takes a close look at a woman who was searching desperately for love and acceptance, but whose cries went unheard by those who surrounded her.

Originally released by World Wide Pictures in commercial theatres, the film is now one hour in length in preparation for its eventual presentation as a television special.

"No Longer Alone" traces the life of an English actress, Joan Winmill Brown. Though she skyrocketed to fame on the British state, her life was marked by a frantic grasp for personal fulfillment and love. Tormented by a past she was unable to forget, she succumbed to a series of nervous breakdowns; and, at one point, attempted to take her own life.

In her ultimate moment of despair, Joan was invited by a "chance" phone call to attend a Billy Graham crusade. It was here that she first discovered her worth as an individual and began her long struggle to piece her shattered life back together.

Those who have followed Billy Graham's ministry will be interested to know that Dr. Graham appears in the film in some of the footage of his 1954 London Crusade, and also in the introduction and conclusion to the film, photographed recently for this special version.

According to William F. Brown, president of World Wide Pictures, "No Longer Alone" was presented with the Award of Excellence from the Film Advisory Board of Hollywood, as well as the Angel award from Religion in Media in America, as the outstanding religion film of the year. It also received the Silver Halo Award from the Southern California Motion Picture Council.

"No Longer Alone" was filmed in color on location in London, and stars Belinda Carroll, Wilfrid Hyde White, James Fox, Samantha Gates, and Gordon DeVol. Simon Williams, who has one of the leading roles in the BBC production, "Upstairs, Downstairs," also stars in the film.

The title song was performed by the popular recording artist, B.J. Thomas.

Courtesies Shown Mr. And Mrs. Carr

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carr were recently honored on two occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Willis entertained at a dinner party on Thursday evening, October 2, at their home. Guests were seated at the dining room table which was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a silk arrangement of fall flowers.

The couple was presented with an electric frying pan by the host and hostess.

A kitchen gadget and pantry shower was given on Sunday afternoon in Fayetteville at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Parks. Others hosting the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. James C. Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Reynolds.

Mrs. Carr was presented a corsage of small kitchen gadgets by the hostesses, and the honored couple was given gifts of a slow cooker and a wooden holder of measuring spoons. Each guest took their favorite recipe and gave it to Mrs. Carr.

After gifts were opened, guests were invited into the dining room for refreshments. An ivory linen cloth covered the refreshment table. Lighted tapers and arrangements of mixed fall flowers were used to decorate the home. Refreshments of punch, coffee, ham biscuits, sausage balls, cake, nuts and mints were served.

Senior Citizens Have Outing

The Raeford Senior Citizens Friendship Club went by bus to Wagram last Tuesday where they visited the John Charles McNeill home and the Richmond Temperance and Literary Society Hall. They were met at the home by Mrs. Odessa Memory who told the group about the restoration and carried them through the house which had been tastefully furnished in the period pieces, many of which had been in the McNeill family. The house honors the poet and is the visitor center museum for the Temperance Hall, which is a state historic building.

The Hall is a six sided building over a hundred years old. In 1959 a group of interested people started a project to acquire and restore the building. Maintenance of all the property is by private subscription. The Senior Citizens group gave a donation for this purpose.

After leaving the McNeill home and Temperance Hall the club members went by Riverton, a beautiful and restful spot on the Lumber River.

On the way back to Raeford the group rode by Mill Prong. The old home which has recently been placed in the National Registry of historic places. This 200 year old structure is to be restored soon. It is located about six miles from Raeford.

The thirty one people who made the tour expressed a great deal of delight in being able to travel together and would like to express their appreciation to Mr. Raz Autry and Mr. Don Steed for furnishing the bus and a driver for the outing.

Cure Gourds To Last For Years

Colorful gourds can spark fall centerpieces. And if you cure them right, they'll last for years.

So here's something you might try. As soon as you pick gourds, give them a good bath. Add a disinfectant, such as a household bleach, to the water to get rid of mold spores.

Next, put the gourds on open shelves in a well-ventilated area for at least a month. Don't let them touch each other or sit close to a heat source. Turn them daily.

Before you use gourds, coat them with furniture polish. This preserves colors and helps protect against mold growth.

If you keep gourds stored in a well-ventilated places, you can continue to use them in fall centerpieces for years.

Milk Gives You Your Money's Worth

In this inflationary period, dairy foods can be especially important. They're good buys with almost no waste. Nothing to peel, bone or throw away. They offer, essential, total value, ounce for ounce. Dairy products are nature's own convenience foods, ready to go at any time. It's simple to pour milk, slice cheese, spread butter, scoop ice cream or serve yogurt or cottage cheese right from the carton. Mention "fast foods" and you get nutritionists up in arms, but one group brings a different response. They're dairy products, fast foods that can give you more value for your money, nutritionally -- naturally.

A Riddle For the 1980s

Here's a riddle you might like.

What toy has been on the market for 25 years, is sold worldwide and is made from salt and flour?

It might help to know that over 10 million pounds of flour and more than a million pounds of salt are used to make it -- each year.

Since the toy was introduced in 1955, 225 million pounds have been sold -- almost 700 million cans. If you haven't guessed what it is yet, here's another hint: it was created and is still being produced in Cincinnati, Ohio.

By now, you may realized that this toy is Play-Doh. It was invented by Joe and Noah McVicker. Joe's sister-in-law and her nursery school pupils complained that ordinary modeling clay was too firm for tiny fingers to mold. The McVickers took the problem to the drawing board and the result was the universally popular Play-Doh.

Today, the Play-Doh family still includes the original four colors (red, blue, yellow, and white). In addition, there are four new Day-Glo colors (Signal Green, Saturn Yellow, Aurora Pink, and Blaze Orange) and playsets that range from Star Wars to Sesame Street.
