

FIREMEN'S SCHOOL -- These pictures were taken during the school held for firemen of the Hillcrest, North Raeford and West Hoke Fire Departments Thursday and sponsored by the Sandhills Community College Continuing Education Division. The course taught firefighting basics to new firemen and brought experienced firemen up to date on techniques. One photo shows firemen, including new volunteers and experienced firefighters, in class. In another, Tony Trolio of the college's fire service, is teaching. In the other, Trolio [right] is explaining ladder techniques. At left is Buddy Willis of the North Raeford Fire Department. The county's departments are looking for new volunteer firemen and need all they can get. [Staff photos by Pam Frederick].
