3 School Board Places Up For 1982

Three places on the five-member Hoke County Board of Education will be up for election in November.

The terms of Bill Cameron, Walter Coley, and Robert Wright are expiring. Wright is serving the remainder of the term of Dr. Riley Jordan, who resigned in February 1981. Cameron and Coley are in the final year of regular four-year terms. Cameron is board chairman.

Since board members are not elected according to membership in a political party, candidates do not have to run in primaries to be nominated before they can run in the general elections.

The filing period for school board candidates, however, opened Monday and will continue through February 1, as with candidates for other county offices.

The other school board members, Mina Townsend and Ruth McNair, were reelected to four-year terms in 1980.

The other offices up for election this year, but on a party basis, are those of county commissioners James B. Hunt, John Balfour and Mabel Riley; Register of Deeds Della Maynor; Clerk of Superior Court Juanita Edmund; and Sheriff David Barrington. All are Democrats.
