Precinct Democrat Meets March 11

On March 11, more than 2,000 Democratic precincts in North Carolina will elect delegates to their county conventions, according to the Democratic Party chairman, Sen. Russell Walker (D-Randolph), who released the Party schedule of events from the Raleigh headquarters last week.

"Precinct meetings reflect the working of grass-roots democracy at its best," Walker said in a statement urging Democrats to attend in record numbers.

"Delegates selection to county, district, and state conventions begins at the precinct level, and Democrats who miss their precinct meetings cannot expect to enter the delegate selection process at some higher level," he continued.

Precinct meetings are scheduled at 8 p.m. at the traditional polling places. An assembly of 10 Democrats who are registered voters in a precinct constitute a quorum. No change in the place or time of the meetings may be made without previous advertising in local newspapers and on local radio.

The common agenda for the March meetings also provides for the election of officers to fill any vacancies that have occurred on precinct committees since the 1981 organizational meetings.

Also on the calendar of events released by Walker are a make-up date, March 18, for precincts that fail to meet on March 11; the county conventions on April 3; district conventions on May 15; and the Democratic State Convention on June 12.

Delegates from North Carolina will also participate in the National Democratic Party Mid-year Conference in Philadelphia on June 25-26.

Turlington PAC To Meet Feb. 25

The Parent Advisory Council of J.W. Turlington School will meet Thursday, February 25 at 10 a.m., at the school.

As part of the program, the winners of the contest in observance of Black History Week will read their essays.

All council members and parents interested in becoming involved with the local PAC are urged to attend.

Literacy Tutor Workshops

Laubach workshops have been scheduled for literacy tutor volunteers by the Hoke Reading/Literacy Council for this month and March.

The dates and places are: February 22-25, from 9 a.m. to noon, at Hoke County Public Library; March 1, 3, 8 and 11, from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., in the Old County Office Building; and March 6, 13, and 27, from 8 a.m. to noon, at the public library.

The council office said this week tutors are needed for the council to teach illiterate and nearly illiterate people how to read and write.

The News-Journal makes every effort to publish only reliable ads. We urge our readers to carefully consider their investment and if you have doubt regarding the offer, to investigate carefully.

Candidate Says Posters Destroyed

James Peterkin, a candidate for Hoke County sheriff, said Tuesday more than half the 100 posters he has put up around the county advertising his candidacy were found torn down and destroyed Sunday and Monday.

He said he wants whoever is doing it to stop.

Peterkin said he personally found five torn up.

Peterkin, a former Hoke County deputy sheriff, is running for the Democratic nomination against Sheriff David Barrington.

Granddaddy

Time had touched both you and I. It had been quite a number of years. On seeing me you began to cry. But then you pulled and hugged me near.

I felt the need to see you, we'd been so far away. Somehow deep down I think I knew That our visit on the farm that day Would be my final talk with you.

We talked of old times and memories. Sharing old dreams along with the new. It seemed your life could never cease As you told me things you planned to do.

Reminiscing on jokes you'd played on me. Got hearty laughter from you. But I'd gotten even in childhood days For I'd also pulled a few.

It just couldn't be that long ago That life had not a care. When I sat comfortably in your lap To laugh at childish things we shared.

Our day passed much too quickly. It was time to say good-bye. I hugged you close and kissed you While trying to ignore the tears in our eyes.

But as I was about to leave. I ran back one more time. To tell you how much I loved you And missed you more than anyone.

Here we departed, as we always must do. I felt so peaceful just to know that you cared. For we had a closeness no one else knew. And memories and dreams that no one else shared.

We said good-bye for one last time... You surprised and saddened me. On that cold and dreary day. Although you could not help it. You somehow slipped away.

I weep for the love in past memories. And for those that will never be. But because we were each others first. It's somehow quite a bit harder for me.

For you took your hearty laughter. And things that were only ours to share. Your quick blue eyes and smile are gone—

Now there sits your empty chair. You've left with things that I've loved most. And put an emptiness there. I thank God for the last time I saw you. To tell you I loved you and how much I cared.

But I know that you are out there— Way out beyond the setting sun. Working happily on your farm. Using two hands instead of just one.
