

New Recreation Program Planned

Hoke County Parks and Recreation Commission, along with the Hoke County Youth Services Task Force, will sponsor a 10-week motivational recreation program.

The program will operate two school gyms. J.W. Turlington gym will be used Saturdays, 9 a.m.-noon and 1-6 p.m.; Upchurch school gym, Saturdays 1-8 p.m.; and both gyms Sundays 1-5 p.m.

There will be two qualified adults at Upchurch and one qualified adult at Turlington at all times to coordinate and supervise all activities.

The program objectives are: to provide youth, ages 10-17, an opportunity to participate in a wholesome, worthwhile recreational activity; to provide an opportunity to improve self-image through rewards such as certificates, and other forms of recognition, and to provide a recreational opportunity during a high-risk time period, Saturdays and Sunday afternoons.

Included in the program will be free-play basketball, one-on-one tournaments, free-throw contests, instructional drills, basketball relays, shout-out championships, and organized team competition.

The program is set to start at both gyms on Saturday. Youths ages 10-17 wishing to participate are encouraged to attend the gym closest to their homes.

The Parks and Recreation office would like to remind those ages 18 and older who desire to use a gym that they must reserve a time and location.

Hunt Wins At Bethel

Paul Hunt, Hoke High cross-country and track runner, won a cross country race held Saturday in Bethel.

The race was the annual Bethel Cross Country Championship sponsored by the Coastal Carolina Track Club. Hunt won the five-kilometer (3.1-mile) race in a time of 16:31, an excellent time for the wet, slippery muddy conditions on the course.

Hunt also placed in the high school age division.

Hunt along with other members of the IEA Road Runners will compete Saturday in the second Annual Boys Club/Optimist Road Race in Columbia, S.C.

'Showcase' Solar Home Near Red Springs

Convinced that the home of the future will rely heavily on the sun for its heating, Gov. Jim Hunt's administration has devised "The Governor's Showcase of Solar Homes" to give the average North Carolinian a chance to see solar energy at work.

The Showcase for this region will feature the home of Claude and Annie Thomas located about one mile from Red Springs along with two homes in Fayetteville, one in Dublin and four others south of Whiteville toward Wilmington.

For four days in February, the Thomas home will open to public inspection. The dates are February 20-21 and 27-28. The home will open from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Saturdays and 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Sundays. Directional signs will be erected to help in location.

Jointly sponsored by the North Carolina Energy Division and the state's Alternative Energy Corporation, the Showcase was set up to show the public that solar energy—both active and passive applications—has come of age.

"One of our primary goals is to show people that solar homes don't have to be expensive or exotic," said John Manuel of the NC Energy Division. Solar is an energy source that almost any homeowner can use in this day of soaring utility bills.

Manuel continued: "The Thomas home is a fine example of what passive solar energy can accomplish. 1,400 square feet built in a conventional manner for $48,500 with 12 months of heating and cooling for $131.35. And that doesn't count the tax savings under the solar energy credits."

The Governor's Showcase of Solar Homes has progressed across the state in the last few months, beginning in the far west. Some of the homes have drawn curious homebuyers and potential homebuilders. But all have excited scores about the prospects of solar energy.

Hoke County Parks and Recreation Commission is sponsoring a bicycle poster contest in conjunction with the Hoke County Schools. Through the poster contest we hope to encourage children in Raeford and Hoke County to think about the possibilities the bicycle holds for transportation and recreation in North Carolina.

Students in grades 4, 5, and 6 are eligible to submit posters. Posters should illustrate some aspect of bicycling and feature of North Carolina. Each grade will be judged separately. Within each grade, one winner will be selected for each of the following categories: Most original, best drawing, and best theme interpretation.

Local judging will take place on March 1 at the Parks and Recreation office. Three judges have been selected to pick our winners. Each winner will receive an appropriate bicycle prize.

Our local winning entries will be sent to the state contest where they may be eligible to win one of 10 bicycles with accessories and a certificate. Winners will be invited to Raleigh on May 7 to receive their prizes and attend a special party with Secretary of Transportation.

Deadline for submitting your poster to Hoke County Parks and Recreation is Friday, February 26. The art teachers for the 4, 5, and 6 grades in the Hoke County School system have all details.

RETIREES FROM BURLINGTON -- James Davis recently retired from the Raeford Plant of Burlington Industries after almost 8 years service at the local plant. Davis was employed in the Spinning Department for the past 7 years as a roll buffer. He stated that he had plenty to keep him busy, mostly catching up on chores at his and his mother's homes. He is pictured (center) with his supervisor, Prince Black (left), and superintendent, Nancy Hodges.

Draft Registration Ages

Recently, President Reagan announced his decision to continue peacetime Selective Service registration.

With the removal of any lingering doubts as to the future of the registration program, the President expressed confidence that young men of registration age will comply with the requirement.

The requirement to register applies to U.S. citizens, and to aliens residing in the United States, born on or after January 1, 1960. Men born in 1960 and 1961 were scheduled to register during July 1980; men born in 1962 were scheduled to register in January 1981; those born in 1963 were scheduled to be registered throughout 1981 as they reached age 18. Men born in 1964 should register within 30 days of their 18th birthday. They may register with Selective Service at any U.S. Post Office.

Late registrations are being accepted. In announcing his decision, the President declared a grace period during which late registration would be accepted without penalty. That grace period extends throughout February 28, 1982. During that period, anyone who was scheduled to register previously, but has not yet done so, may register without fear of prosecution for late registration. The forms are available at all post offices.

After February 28, and after identifying the names of those persons who registered during the grace period, Selective Service will carry out a program of full compliance with the registration law. The Department of Justice, in coordination with the Selective Service system, will initiate appropriate enforcement action.

As one of several means of calling attention to the registration requirement, the Selective Service system is continuing to make available for public inspection, lists of registrants and their tentative local board assignments. This is in keeping with the intent of selective service that its procedures be open to the public. Most lists will be posted at county courthouses and city halls.

The lists cover registration processed through September 30, 1981, and include men born in 1960, 1961, 1962, and 1963.

Local board assignments are arranged by Zip Code based upon the registrant's permanent address.
