

Bloodmobile Visits Hoke High

Staff Photos

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile visited Hoke County High School Friday, and many students and nonstudents responded to the appeal for donations of blood.

The visit was sponsored by the high school's chapter of Health Occupations Students of America.

The HOSA students assisted the nurses and with registration and other details. The students of Hoke High's Food Service Class prepared the refreshments for the donors. Volunteers from the community outside the school helped also. They included Hazel Hendrix and Ella Walker, and nurses. The program was held in MacDonald Gymnasium at Hoke High.

Here are pictures taken during the day.

The volunteers gave 150 pints of blood. Most of them were students.

These HOSA students shown with student donor Anna Thomas (on the table) were among those who helped with the blood-donor program. L-R, standing, Lorene Jacobs and Fern Rogers. They helped the nurses.

Correction

The name of J.L. McNeill, chairman of the board of United Carolina Bank of Raeford, formerly The Bank of Raeford, was omitted inadvertently from the caption under the picture of the bank executives published in last week's edition of The News-Journal.

Bible Study

Miss I. Ruth Martin, associate professor of religion, Pembroke State University, will conduct a weekly "in-depth" Bible Study commencing March 17 at Pittman Grove Baptist Church.

The pastor, Rev. Mack Musselwhite, announced today that Miss Martin, writer and traveler, will lead a course titled "Lifting Up." The six-week course will have these primary emphases: "Personal examination and consecration and prayer as a technique and tool. This study will be offered each Wednesday evening 7-9:30 in the church Fellowship Hall. An enrollment fee of $8 to defray expenses will be required.

Miss Martin's travels include 13 Holy Land trips, to Israel; an archaeological "dig" in Jerusalem at the City of David; and seven tours of Europe. She is listed in "Who's Who In South" as an "Outstanding Teacher" as well as the author of articles which have appeared in numerous publications and of journalism correspondence to leading state newspapers.

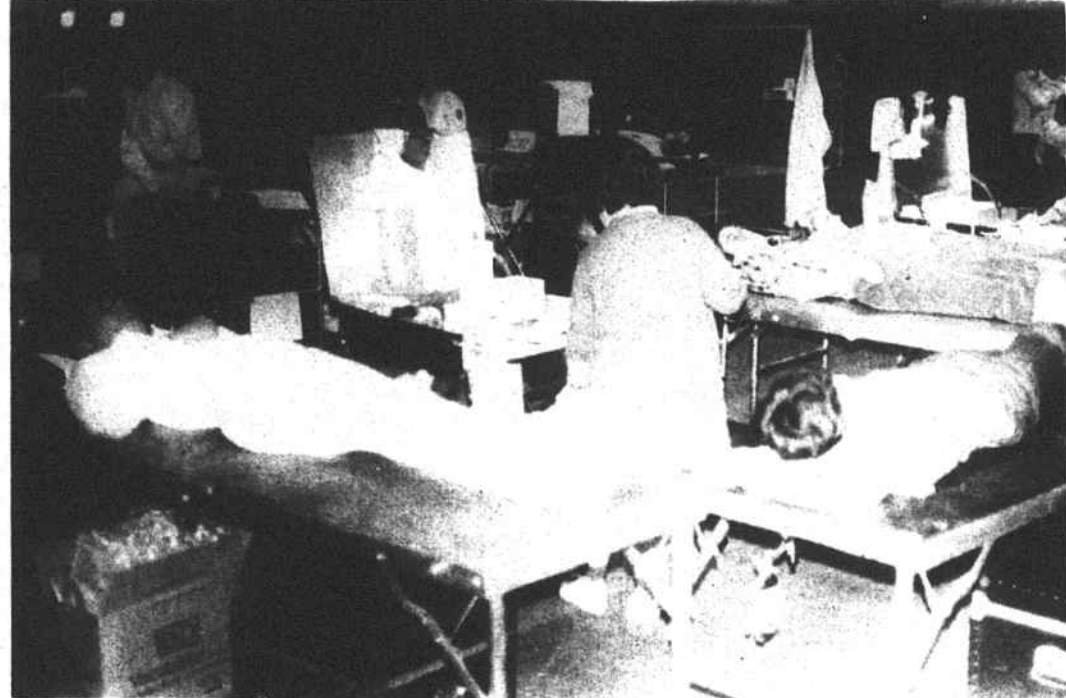

Persons interested in the Bible study course are advised to contact the pastor at 875-4509 for more details.
