

Five Burlington Employees Retire

Robert D. Sands

The Raeford Plant of Burlington Industries recently had five long-service employees retire within a few weeks of each other.

Each of these retirees had over 25 years service with the company and received an engraved retirement plaque and Bible.

Two recently reached milestones in their employment histories (30 and 35 years) and received additional gifts.

The retired employees are: Robert D. Sands - 25 years, maintenance technician; Lois Scarborough - 30 years, backwinder tender; Harry L. McMinis - 31 years, maintenance technician; Elizabeth R. Newton - 31 years, twister tender; and Mary C. Maples - 35 years, hand draw-in.

Foreign Problems Discussions Set

"Great Decisions '82," the U.S. Foreign Policy Association's annual discussion program of current worldwide topics, will be offered at the Hoke County Library each Wednesday March 17-May 5, from 10 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.

The discussion leaders will be retired Ambassadors Max Krebs of Jackson Springs and Findley Burns of Southern Pines, and Talmadge Lancaster, former head of the Tehran American school, now superintendent of Samarkand Manor at Eagle Springs.

People planning to attend may register at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at the library. The registration fee is $8 for anyone under age 65 and none for those 65 or older.

Each discussion period will cover a different subject. The subjects are related to Central American, Western Europe, American defense, Japan, global inflation, the Palestinians, the USSR and Poland, and protecting the world's resources.

"Great Decisions" is sponsored by Sandhills Community College.

BOOKS FOR McLAUCHLIN -- The Education Department of the Raeford Junior Woman's Club gave five children's books to the McLauchlin School Library March 9. Club Group Gives Books To School

The Raeford Junior Woman's Club Education Department gave five children's books to the McLauchlin School Library March 9.

The books are: "Look at Me Now!" a Golden Book in cooperation with the Menniger Foundation for solving problems of childhood; "What Is A Flower?" a child's Golden Science Book, a simple introduction to flowering plants; "Smokey Beards Camping Book," forest lore, safety tips, and outdoor fun for young campers and especially beneficial for fire prevention; "The A to Z No-cook Cookbook," a Golden Cook Book for the experimenting teacher and child; no stoves or ovens; and "The One Word Storybook," a Golden Book for children, totally for fun.

Crime Control Puppet Shows Given

The "Good News Gang" of the State Department of Crime Control and Public Safety gave programs for the students of South Hoke and West Hoke schools March 9.

The pictures were taken at the South Hoke program, during the immediately after it ended.

The program, sponsored by the Hoke County 4-H clubs and the state department, told the youngsters.

The youngsters were told by puppets and a "live" person about the laws concerning shoplifting and vandalism and the importance of making records of their bicycles and other personal property in case they are stolen.

Among the visitors was McGruff, the "crime biter dog" of the state department's television crime-prevention advertisements. McGruff went through the audience, shaking hands (the children's) with paws (his), in his familiar hat, trench coat and long pants.

The puppets were handled by Betty East, Connie Lenckus and Linda Griffin, and the "live" person who spoke to the audience was Sue Harris.

The programs at the two schools were sponsored by the Hoke County 4-H clubs and the state department.

Hoke Senior To Be Honored

Stephanie Scriven, a Hoke County High School senior, has been selected the Tutor of the Month of March.

She will receive a certificate from the Hoke County Reading Literacy Council, naming her to this honor.

As a senior volunteer, Stephanie works with several students each week and enables them to succeed in the courses they take.
