

AID TO MILLIONS CLASSIFIED ADS

NOTICES

The Lumbee River Electric Membership Corporation, P.O. Box, 830, Red Springs, North Carolina 28377, announces that it is making an application for a loan (loan guarantee) of approximately $6 million from the Rural Electrification Administration which will provide for the construction of approximately 34 kilometers (21 miles) of 115 kilovolt transmission line. The facilities covered by the announcement are located partly in Hoke County and partly in Robeson County. The facilities located in Hoke County will consist of 25 kilometers (16 miles) of single pole transmission line running on a 30 meter (100 foot) wide right-of-way from a switching station one mile southeast of Raeford near the Carolina Power and Light Substation.

From the switching station, the transmission line will be constructed for a distance of 3 kilometers (2 miles) to the northeast to a new substation near Scurlock School in Hoke County. The line will also be constructed for a distance of 22 kilometers (14 miles) toward the west to a new substation near Pineville at the intersection of SR 1214 and SR 1219. The proposed route from the switching station to the northeast will follow an existing power line right-of-way for the first mile. This right-of-way parallels SR 1403. Thereafter, the route continues on new right-of-way in a northeasterly direction to the substation near Scurlock School. The proposed route from the switching station to the west extends in a straight line for a distance of 6 miles to Bowmore. It proceeds from that point on an existing power line right-of-way along SR 1204 for a distance of 2 miles to its intersection with SR 1202. From that point it continues on new right-of-way for a distance of .6 miles to a point where the route intersects with SR 1200. From that point the line will follow an existing power line right-of-way to the northwest for .9 miles to SR 1203. From that point it continues along existing right-of-way for .5 miles along SR 1203 to its intersection with SR 1212. From that point it continues along existing right-of-way to the north for 1.5 miles to SR 1211. From that point it continues along existing right-of-way for 2.4 miles to the substation site.

Both new substations in Hoke County will be a 115 kilovolt to 12.5 kilovolt facilities which require at least a .4 hectare (1 acre) site. A Borrower's Environmental Report, which indicates anticipated environmental effects, has been prepared for the proposed project. A copy of this report can be reviewed at Lumbee River EMC's principal office or at the offices of the Rural Electrification Administration (James A. Ruspi, Washington, D.C. 20250, telephone number 1-202-382-8930). The cooperative does not believe the proposed project will have a significant effect on the quality of the human environment. The Rural Electrification Administration will make its own independent environmental assessment prior to granting financing assistance for the proposed facilities.

A portion of the transmission line will traverse a 100-year floodplain near Rockfish Creek in Hoke County. If there are any comments on the environmental aspects (including (1) potentially significant archaeological, historical sites and cultural resources, (2) important farmland, (3) flood plains, (4) wetlands, and (5) endangered species) of the proposed construction, they should be submitted to the cooperative within thirty (30) days of the publication of this notice. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Earl Belcher at the cooperative's office at the above address or by calling 875-4249. A copy of all comments received by the cooperative will be sent to REA for its independent environmental evaluation.
