Mrs. McLauchlin Honored At Antioch

Mrs. Thomas N. McLauchlin was perfectly at home on Saturday afternoon when the manse at Antioch Presbyterian Church was the setting for a "drop-in" honoring her.

She was Emeline Hanna in 1924 when her father, the late Rev. George W. Hanna became Antioch's Pastor. Her mother is reported to have actually drawn the plans for the gracious house built in 1925.

Misses Willa, Eloise, Bonnie and Jeanette McLauchlin, sisters-in-law of Mrs. McLauchlin, were hostesses with the present mistress of the manse, Mrs. Charles Ansley, assisting.

After being welcomed at the front door by Miss Willa McLauchlin, guests registered and then were greeted in the entrance hall by Mrs. Ansley.

Mrs. McLauchlin, in the living room, received affectionate good wishes and enjoyed reminiscences with about 65 callers between three and four-thirty. She will move to High Point this week, joining her sisters, Rachel McCauley and Sara Louise Hanna in the Presbyterian Home there.

Also receiving in the living room were Misses Bonnie and Eloise McLauchlin. Miss Jeanette McLauchlin and Mrs. Charles Daniels greeted guests in the dining room.

The refreshment table was centered with a colorful bouquet of yellow, gold, and white chrysanthemums and daisies. Mrs. Robert L. Gibson had thoroughly planned the floral arrangement and had gathered roses from her garden for the corsages and bouquets.

Mrs. Charles Raynor of Fayetteville, Mrs. McLauchlin's daughter, and Miss Caroline Ansley, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Ansley, presided at the tea table. An assortment of party foods and confections was served with cranberry punch.

Callers included guests from Laurinburg, Red Springs, Raeford, Gibson, Fayetteville, and other near-by areas.
