DAR Honors Misses Hostetler, Farrow

Dorcas Hostetler and Beverly Farrow were honored last week when the Upper Cape Fear Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met in Red Springs. They had been designated DAR Good Citizens of their schools. The girls and their mothers were guests at the chapter meeting.

Both are seniors, Miss Hostetler at Flora Macdonald Academy in Red Springs, and Miss Farrow at Hoke County High School.

Also honored was Suwana Hammonds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hammonds of Red Springs, who was named DAR Good Citizen from Red Springs High School.

Miss Hostetler is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Hostetler. She is president of the Student Government Association at Flora Macdonald, is editor of the school paper and is on the staff of the annual.

Named to the Distinguished Society of High School Students, she also is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students. She is an officer in the Beta club and received the coveted Danforth "I Dare You" award.

In eighth grade competition, Dorcas was a district winner in the state-wide DAR essay contest. She is a member of the chorus and the science club, and was a marshal.

In addition to her scholastic achievements, she is active in FMA's sports programs, was named Most Valuable Player on the tennis team, and also plays basketball.

At First Baptist Church, Miss Hostetler teaches Sunday School, is in the Youth Choir, and is active in Ac-teens.

The Good Citizen program, sponsored by the North Carolina Society of the DAR, is open to boys and girls in high school senior classes.

The award is based on leadership, including personality, self-control, and ability to assume responsibility; dependability -- truthfulness, loyalty and punctuality; service -- cooperation, courtesy and consideration of others; patriotism -- unselfish interest in family, school, community, and nation; and scholastic record -- the student must be ranked academically in the top 10 percent of his or her class.

October 30 At Upchurch Junior High

Benefit Carnival Planning 'Rolling'

The planning for the Hoke County Community Halloween Carnival scheduled for October 30 at Upchurch Junior High School, from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m., is "really rolling," Betty Pittman, president of the sponsoring organization, said this week.

The Carnival is being sponsored by the Parent and Volunteers Committee for the Trainable Multi-handicapped Students of the Hoke County school system, in cooperation with the Raeford Kiwanis Club.

"This will be only the second annual benefit Halloween Carnival for us," she added, "but the response from community organizations to provide booths, run concessions, prepare posters and donate door prizes has been overwhelming."

"So far, we have about a dozen different groups lined up to help out," reported Jeanne Sisk, vice president of the TMH Parents Group.

The plans call for activities for kids of all ages, with Carnival booths, demonstrations, bake sales, an auction, and an old-fashioned country store which the parents will want to visit.

There also will be clowns, a dance exhibition, an artist at work, a dunking booth, a Cake Walk, costume judging, pumpkin judging, Haunted House, raffles, "The Gorge," Pie in the Face, and Target Practice.

Supporters and participants include Faberge, Inc., Betty Grice, TMH Parents, the Raeford Kiwanis Club, the Raeford-Hoke County Chamber of Commerce, the Raeford Lions Club, the Raeford Merchants' Association, the Raeford Junior Woman's Club, the NAACP of Hoke County, Hoke County High School, the Order of the Eastern Star, Upchurch Junior High, Sandhills Youth Center, the Hoke County Blazers semi-pro baseball team, Hoke County volunteer fire departments and their auxiliaries, the Hoke County Parks and Recreation Department, Post 20 of the American Legion, the Rangerettes of the Woodmen of the World, the Raeford Jaycees and Jayettes, church groups, 4-H clubs, Scouts, Hoke County Beekeepers Association, the Hoke Tennis Association.

The booths and activities include "See the Spook," "Witches Brew," dart-throwing at balloons, balloon bust, bobbing for apples, Bingo, bean bag toss, baseball throw, fish pond, arm wrestling, guessing weight or age, tug-o-war, a fortune teller, arcade games, ring the bottle, dunking booth, "Get the Celebrity," ring toss, car races, greased pole climb, demolition derby, tire toss, "Clown Face" and "Tar Heel" painting, and duck pond.

Concession stands will offer hot dogs, soft drinks, popcorn, coffee, and bakery foods for sale.

Marketing Students Working At Fair

Marketing and Distributive Education students from Hoke County High School are actively involved in the 1982 North Carolina State Fair in Raleigh.

Twenty-four local students will man the entire MDE exhibit on Saturday, October 16.

The State Fair will begin on October 15 and run through October 23.

For the first time, a separate building, a geodesic dome, has been devoted to exhibits that have been planned, developed, and manned by vocational education students from throughout the State of North Carolina.

The theme of the vocational exhibit is "Carousel of Skills."

A carousel simulation has been established inside the dome utilizing movement, lights, music, mirrors, cloth streamers, and horses. Fair viewers will walk through the exhibit on a pathway which begins with vocational development, winds through the other vocational education program areas (agriculture, business and office, health occupations, home economics, industrial arts, trade and industrial education) and culminates with the marketing and distributive education exhibit and the futures area.

Hoke High students who will participate are Kenneth Purcell, Towanna Burkes, Rowena LeGrand, Johnnie Thompson, Towanda Quick, Charlotte Leadford, Vicky Blue, Wanda Brown, Noel Jones, Avejo Woods, Pam Bryan, Tamey Baldwin, Tonya Holt, Paula Locklear, Mary McArm, Sharon Thornton, and Donna Watson. These students will be accompanied by local Vocational Director Harold Gillis, his wife, and Eleanor Snead, MDE Teacher-Coordinator.

It is hoped that many local people will be able to attend the State Fair on October 16 so that you may have an opportunity to see these local students perform as they represent marketing and distributive education students across the state. Plan now to attend the Fair and visit the Vocational Exhibit. You will be glad you did!
