Miss Parks, Mr. Smith Exchange Vows In Southern Pines Church

Mary Dawn Parks of Norcross, Ga. was married to Dean Earl Smith of Stone Mountain, Ga. Oct. 9th in the Church of Wide Fellowship, Southern Pines. The Rev. Michael J. Garber officiated. Her father, Julian E. Parks, Jr. gave her in marriage.

The bride wore a gown of white silk organza. The neckline was Gibson girl trimmed with Chantilly lace accented with seed pearls. The bodice was Victorian, trimmed with Chantilly lace with silk Venice appliques and seed pearls. Sleeves were Bishop trimmed with silk Venice lace, appliques and Venice lace. The skirt was A-line with pleated overlay of Chantilly lace. The train was semi-cathedral trimmed with appliques of Chantilly lace. She wore a veil of bridal illusion on a Juliet style headpiece banded by bands of Chantilly lace accented with seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and baby's breath and white ribbon over a testament used by her mother in her wedding and covered with white satin and lace.

The groom is the son of Marie June Smith of Union City, Ga. and the late major retired, Earl E. Smith.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian E. Parks, Sr. of Raeford.

The double ring ceremony was performed before a background of nine branch candle trees with lighted tapers. The trees were entwined with ivy and fern. Two baskets of white snapdragons, pink carnations and white mums were on either side. The altar also held lighted tapers.

The mother's pews were marked with pink and white miniature carnations tied with white satin streamers. The family pews were marked with the same flowers.

Mrs. Carol Black of Aberdeen presided at the guest register in the church foyer and at the brides table at the reception.

Paul Long of Southern Pines, organist, presented a program of baroque music. Soloist was Mrs. Peggy Russell of Greensboro College, voice teacher at Dunn. She sang "I Will Sing These Songs Of Gladness" by Dvorak and "Wedding Song" by Scultz. The processional was "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin. The recessional was "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn.

Brenda McNulty, aunt of the bride of Fayetteville, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of burgundy silk organza trimmed with Venice lace and pleated bodice and a bustle and carried a nosegay of pink, white and variegated mauve pink and white carnations with pink and white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Kathy Fisher of Atlanta, Ga. College roommate of the bride.

The bridesmaids were Helen Cox of Rockingham, cousin of the bride, Peggy Parks of Greenville, sister-in-law of the bride, Mary Brannen of Atlanta, Ga., Erica Cope of Kernersville, cousin of the bride. They wore identical gowns as that of the matron of honor and carried identical nosegays.

Jimmy Richardson of Eagle Springs, cousin of the bride and John Glisson of Raeford were alcyter.

The men in the wedding wore charcoal gray tuxedos.

Best man was Jim Mortimer of Atlanta, Ga., friend of the groom. Ushers were David Ream of Atlanta, Allen McNulty of Fayetteville, cousin of the bride, Julian E. Parks, Jr. of Greenville, Andrew Parks and John Parks of Raeford, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Dean Earl Smith

The bride's mother wore a gown of crystal nylon satchet with a bertha collar trimmed with imported French lace with a tiered skirt. She wore a wrist corsage of purple violets.

The mother of the groom wore a mint green silk gown and a corsage of violets.

The flower girl was Jennifer Parks of Raeford, cousin of the bride. She wore a gown of white voile and taffeta with Chantilly lace sleeves and inserts and carried a basket of white and pink rose petals with white satin streamers.

The ringbearer was Harrison Harper of Lillington, friend of the bride. He wore a tuxedo of charcoal gray.

Nina Richardson of Eagle Springs, cousin of the bride and Nina Upchurch of High Falls, cousin of the bride directed the wedding.

REHEARSAL DINNER

An after rehearsal dinner was given by the grooms mother and held at the Holiday Inn in the Sandhills Room in Southern Pines. The tables were decorated with white carnation daisies, mums and candles.

A prayer was given by the brides brother Julian E. Parks, Jr.

After the traditional toast given by Jim Mortimer, best man, the bride gave a toast to her parents who were celebrating their wedding anniversary and to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harper who were also celebrating theirs.

The bride and groom were entertained at a cocktail party and dance by friends and family after the rehearsal dinner at J. Alberts in Southern Pines.

RECEPTION

The reception was hosted by the brides parents at the Pinehurst Hotel in the South room.

The registration table was draped with a linen cloth, with an arrangement of pink candles, carnations mums and daisies. A baby picture of the bride and one of the groom were also displayed.

A table covered with white linen was used for gifts.

Two round tables draped in white linen were used for Champagne punch and fruit punch. The three tiered white wedding cake with gypsophila and fern was served by Mrs. Ruth Phillips of Raeford.

Another round table draped in white linen held a variety of Hors d'oeuvres and finger foods placed in silver trays.

Mrs. Hester Davis served Champagne punch. Mrs. Velma Cope and Wanda Williams served punch.

Honored guests were Janice Parks and Florence Williams, aunts of the bride. They wore gowns of Chiffon of yellow and salmon, respectively.

The bride graduated from UNC-Chapel Hill with a degree in music. She also attended the School of the Arts in Winston-Salem. She is employed by Bostick in Atlanta as a sales representative.

The groom graduated from North Georgia College. He is employed as a sales manager with Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in Atlanta. He also is a major in the Army reserves.

After a wedding trip to Key West, Fla., they will be at home in Stone Mountain, Ga.
