FOR WARMER ANIMALS -- The rear side of the pens at the Hoke County dog pound is sporting newly installed vinyl sheeting to protect the dogs and cats from the winter wind, making living considerably warmer. The concrete trough outside the bottom of the pens was installed last year by Raeford municipal workers to make washing the concrete-floored pens easier and direct the waste water into the sewer system instead of the nearby creek where it had been going. The County Health Department had the winterizing of the pens done and plans to put flooring on the bottom of the boxes in the pens so the animals can keep off the concrete floor to sleep when it's cold and wet. The county commissioners authorized the winterizing improvements at a recent meeting. The cash outlay won't amount to more than a few hundred dollars, because of the low cost of materials. The labor has been provided by county and city employees. Most of the work of putting up the sheeting was done by the dog wardens, William Hales for the county, and Johnny Riley for the city.

In District Court

Two Bound Over On Rape

Two Hoke County men were bound over to Hoke County Superior Court Friday for grand jury action on charges of first-degree rape after probable cause for the charges was found at preliminary hearings in Hoke County District Court the same day.

The action was taken by Judge Joseph E. Dapree on two counts each against Weldon Harris McKenzie, 29, of Rt. 1, Box 188, Raeford, and Raymond Wallace, 32, of Rt. 3, Box 242, Raeford.

Both defendants pleaded "not guilty."

The warrants were served on McKenzie and Wallace October 22 on a complaint made to the Hoke County Sheriff's Department by Linda Allen, 25, of Raeford, that the two men attacked her in an unoccupied house near Upchurch Junior High School, October 21 after inviting her to come to a fish fry.

She told the investigator she accompanied the two men because she had gone to school with them and believed they were "all right."

In an unrelated case two other defendants waived probable-cause hearings Friday, one on four drug charges and the other on a charge of felonious escape.

The defendants and the charges are: Wallace Jacobs, Maxton, possession of marijuana with intent to manufacture, sell, or deliver it; and Larry Atkinson, Sandhills Youth Center, McCain, escape.

Share Your Christmas 1982 Needs Help And Donations

Share Your Christmas 1982, a community-wide collection and distribution of food, clothing, and toys, is now in operation Project Chairman Kay Thomas said.

In 1981, Hoke County learned that the spirit of Christmas is sharing.

That spirit of giving with love made Christmas special for the 140 families who received and Christmas warmer for those who gave.

Families with special needs will be referred through the schools, Health Department, Churches, individuals, Social Services, organizations, and other agencies in a position to know the needs.

These referrals will then be reviewed.

Because of the need to receive contributions, the Department of Social Services has agreed to receive food, clothing, toys, and any other gifts.

The items will then be turned over to the SHARE YOUR CHRISTMAS Committee for sorting and distribution.

Contributions may be brought to the Department between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday thru Friday, from now until December 6th.

Anyone donating to SHARE YOUR CHRISTMAS is asked to inform the Department's receptionist of the donation so that they might be directed to the storage area.

After December 6th, items will be received at the Hoke County Library during the following times: 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and from 9 a.m. until 12 Noon on Saturdays.

All contributions will be needed by December 16th to allow sufficient time to prepare SHARE YOUR CHRISTMAS for the families.

Monetary contributions may be mailed anytime between now and December 16th to: SHARE YOUR CHRISTMAS, c/o The News-Journal, Post Office Box 550, Raeford, N.C. 28376.

The money received will be used to purchase clothing articles and some toys.

Families may register between December 7th and December 16th on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and Saturday mornings at the same times contributions will be received.

The community's interest in this project could make a very real difference in a child's or family's Christmas.
