Conger - Homewood Vows Exchanged In Weldon

Miss Betsy Tom Lawrence Homewood and Stephen Halsey Conger Jr. were united in marriage Nov. 13 in a noon ceremony at Grace Episcopal Church in Weldon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sholes Homewood of Weldon and formerly of Raeford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Halsey Conger of Weldon.

Rev. Carroll Bradford Hall of Weldon performed the nuptial rites, assisted by Rev. Joshua Taylor MacKenzie of Durham. Music for the ceremony was provided by Jacqui Meyers, harpist and Doug Meyers, trumpeter from the North Carolina Symphony. Benjamin Bailey Burgwyn of Roanoke Rapids was acolyte.

Presented for marriage, the bride wore her mothers' wedding gown of magnolia satin with lace appliques. She wore her grandmothers' Venetian point applique veil over her mother's veil of Belgium lace. The bride carried a bouquet of Phalenopsis orchids, twisted willow branches, Spanish moss, stephanotes and chlorophytum comosum.

Maid of honor was Miss Paige Ward of Richmond, Va.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Lorraine Dale Echols Temple of Emporia, Va.; Mrs. Martha Kaye Pass Lambert of Winston-Salem; Miss Dorothy Bennett Wellons of Richmond, Va.; Miss Betty Eva Kittner of Blowing Rock; Mrs. Catherine Elizabeth Cook Fayed of Roanoke Rapids; Miss Susan de Camp Conger of Augusta, Ga., sister of the bridegroom; Miss Marion Lansdell Meiere Conger of Weldon, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Carolyn Smallwood Homewood, sister-in-law of the bride.

The attendants wore blue plaid taffeta dresses and carried grapevine baskets filled with statice, dutch iris, daisies, miniature red carnations, roses, Spanish moss, ivy and chlorophytum comosum.

The bridegroom's father served as best man. Groomsmen were Robert Cody Lansdell Conger of Weldon, brother of the bridegroom; Samuel Sholes Homewood Jr. of Weldon, brother of the bride; Robert Lawler Cumbia of Roanoke Rapids; John Miner Botts Lewis IV of Augusta, Ga.; Dr. Cheney Mell Meiere Jr. of Florence, S.C.; Hugh Wade Carter Jr. of Lake Shores; Henry Miller Anderson Jr. of Charleston, S.C. and David Terry Lawrence of Mount Airy.

The bride's mother wore a dress of champagne lace. She wore baby's breath in her hair.

The groom's mother wore a gown of wisteria moire taffeta and a lavender orchid waist corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Saint Mary's High School, Saint Mary's College and the University of North Carolina. She has furthered her studies at Appalachian State University and is a member of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity. The bride made her social debut at the 1975 Terpsichorean Ball.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Enfield Academy and North Carolina State University. He is employed as assistant manager of the South Carolina Division of Coastal Lumber Company, Society of American Foresters.

The couple will reside at 412 Hayne St., Walterboro, S.C.

The bride's parents entertained at Chockoyotte Country Club following the ceremony.

Music was provided by a string quartet from the North Carolina Symphony.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brandon Barringer entertained out of town friends of the parents of the bridal couple at a cocktail buffet on Saturday evening. Out of town friends and attendants of the bridal couple had a cookout at Roanoke Shores.

A bridesmaids luncheon was held the day prior to the wedding in the home of Mrs. Robert Baylor Metcalfe in Weldon.

The bridegroom's parents entertained the wedding party and out of town guests at dinner on the wedding eve at Chockoyotte Country Club.

The couple was honored with a dance at the Chockoyotte Country Club at 9 p.m. on the wedding eve. Host were friends & relatives.
