

Social Events

Mrs. Carlton Niven, Social Reporter, 875-3785

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Burkhard have recently returned from several weeks in Memphis and other towns in Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. Ebb Barrington of Pittsboro visited his mother, Mrs. Helen S. Barrington on Sunday.

Mrs. Jean Hodges returned Monday after spending the weekend in Washington, D.C. where she attended the NFL game Sunday between the Dallas Cowboys and the Washington Red Skins.

Miss Ellen Currie spent the weekend in Fayetteville as guest of her friend, Miss Betty Bernstein.

SOCIALS - 875-2121

Mrs. Ralph Plummer and daughter, Miss Becky Plummer of Fayetteville spent the weekend in Morehead City in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Plummer. They went especially to babysit Mrs. Plummer's granddaughter, Mistzi, while her parents were away. Miss Plummer has recently moved to Fayetteville and is a district health care representative for National Linen Co.

Recent visitors in the home of Mrs. Margaret Lewis were her brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. James Bowers, her two sisters, Mrs. Allie Sue Kloss and Miss Ruth Bowers, all of Greenwood, S.C.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Connell were Mrs. Connell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Hardie of Clover, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Walker and family of Sanford were recent visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maxwell.

Color Analysis:

A Season For Everyone

Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter don't always refer to the season in a year. For Today's Woman, color analysis experts from Atlanta, Georgia, they denote the palettes or color categories that each of us fall into according to our skin tone, hair and eye color. For example, those of us who are "Winters" are complemented by cool, blue undertones and should wear true, bold colors such as true grays, any shade of navy blue, forest and hunter greens, and pure whites.

Today's Woman, a seven-year-old organization which color analyzes thousands of people each year, was featured in a sales seminar for apparel retailers at the Atlanta Apparel Mart during the October 30 - November 3 Market for Spring '83. Nick Serba and Gayle Glenn, owners of Today's Woman, believe that color analysis is more than just a fad. "People know what looks good on them," says Glenn, who handles the fashion angle of Today's Woman. "By analyzing features such as skin tones, eye and hair color, we can tell them why a particular color looks good on them." This, according to Glenn, is precisely why apparel retailers are realizing the importance of the color analysis concept.

Color analyzing an individual actually involves a calculating procedure. The consultant first studies the hair, particularly the roots, to determine true color. Skin color is determined by studying both the inside of the wrists and the face (minus the makeup). Then, after the eye color is ascertained, a white cloth is draped over the individual's shoulders. An additional cloth is draped over the hair if it is suspected to be uncomplimentary to that person's palette.

After these preliminary steps are taken, the draping of the swatches begins. One at a time, the color analyst drapes different shades of various colors across the person's shoulders and under their chin. After standing back and studying the effect of these swatches, the color analyst determines that person's color palette.

The woman who has been color analyzed now has a baggie filled with about thirty, two-inch fabric blocks which complement her features. Rarely does she go anywhere without this "swatch packet," especially on her shopping trips for new clothes. Indeed, these color-analyzed women have become somewhat of a force in the marketplace. Some cosmetic firms and jewelry companies are beginning to categorize their product lines according to seasonal color palettes and, in some states, stores are displaying clothes this way rather than by size.

The color analysis craze, which began with Carol Jackson's book, Color Me Beautiful, has spawned a multitude of color analysis "experts." However, the technique of color analysis is not a whimsical process. The staff of Today's Woman, which includes makover specialists as well as color analysts, has gone through a thorough training program. "There are so many color analysts around today that are merely 'kitchen table experts,'" says Serba. "One should take the time to consult a true color professional." "Asking to see a presentation is the best way to determine whether an analyst is an expert," adds Glenn. "Looking at the material that they use in their presentation is one indicator of a true professional. If someone is using fabrics and colors in their swatches which you would never see in a quality store, you can probably be sure they are not a true professional."

Personals

Herbert McLean returned home Friday afternoon from Duke Hospital where he was a patient for several weeks. His brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James K. David of Greensboro brought him to Raeford.

Mrs. Hal Clark of Charleston, S.C. was a weekend visitor in the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. June Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Currie recently had as their guests their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Barnett and son of Eden, and their other daughter, Miss Kathy Currie of Schaumburg, Ill., where she is personnel manager of Weyerhaeuser Company.

Christmas Parade
Saturday - 2:00 p.m.

Donations Sought For Share Your Christmas

Donations and applications are being received now. For share your Christmas.

Those interested are asked to come to the Hoke Public Library on Tuesday or Thursday afternoons (3-5 p.m. or Saturday mornings (10 a.m. - 12 p.m.) during December.

The program needs used toys, used clothes, warm blankets, new toys or clothing for children and canned or staple food goods.

Money is also needed to purchase specific needs, especially toys. Donations may be mailed in care of The News-Journal, P.O. Box 550.

Volunteers are also needed to come to the library during the working hours to help sort goods.

This communitywide project is being sponsored by the Woman's Club of Raeford and Hoke Department of Social Services.

Cooperation of all churches, civic groups and concerned individuals are vital to its success.

For further information please call Kay Thomas or Ken Witherpoon.

Rockfish News

by Polly Barnard

Tel. 875-2736

Marion Wood of Charlotte spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. A.W. Wood, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood, Mrs. Gertrude McKinnon of Cumberland and Worth Wood of Hope Mills spent several days last week with Howard Wood of Tampa, Florida, who had recently been hospitalized for a week. While there they also visited Mr. and Mrs. Woodie Newcomb. The report is that Howard is home from the hospital and improving.

There was a meeting of the North Carolina Chapter of the U.S. Submarine Veterans at the American Legion Post Home in Parkton Saturday evening, November 27th. A dinner was given in honor of Star W. Sessoms who organized the N.C. Chapter of the Submarine Veterans.

The Young Adult Choir of Tabernacle Baptist Church presented their Contata, "An Old Fashioned Christmas" the past Sunday evening. The attendance was excellent and the program was reported to be fantastic.

The W.M.U. Circle met jointly Monday evening for their "Christmas Supper" in the Fellowship Hall at the church.

Don't forget the Christmas Parade in Raeford Saturday, December 11th at 2:00 p.m. The live nativity scene from the Church will be on a float in the parade. Plan to attend if possible.

The Contata, "Born A King," by John Peterson, will be presented during the evening worship service by the Adult Choir Sunday evening, December 12th. The public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Monroe, Mrs. Ethel Monroe and Mrs. Agnes Clark attended funeral service at First Baptist Church in Southern Pines Monday for Mr. Alton Scott. Mr. Scott was the father-in-law of the late Joe Allen Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Monroe visited Mrs. Nancy Monroe and other family members in Southern Pines Sunday night.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Clellan McKenzie, Charles Chason and Colon Chason in the death of their father, Lonnie Chason who died Thursday December 2nd. Funeral was at Sandy Grove United Methodist Church Saturday.

Mrs. Lawrence Barnard attended a "house-warming" Saturday evening for Mrs. Keith Willis of Fayetteville who recently moved into her new home. Others attending from the area were Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Lindsay, Miss Ellen Currie of Raeford and Wade McDougald.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Watson of Elizabethtown visited Mrs. Louise Watson Sunday afternoon. They also visited their son, Phillip who is on the police force in Fayetteville.

Mrs. Grady English visited her sister, Mrs. Wright Parker of Selma Friday and Saturday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood, Mrs. Earl McKinnon of Cumberland and Worth Wood of Hope Mills spent several days last week in Tampa, Florida visiting Howard Wood who had recently spent a week in the hospital.

The children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Younger Stevens had a family reunion and Christmas dinner the past Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Jackson, Mrs. Stanley Croteau, Mrs. Jessie Brisson, Mrs. Robert Renegar, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Faircloth, Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Stevens, all of Fayetteville. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gilette of Greenville, North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Belton Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood. Everyone had a real nice time and exchanged Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Archie Clark, Mrs. Neda Mae Williams and Mrs. Brock attended the 45th Wedding Anniversary Reception for Mr. and Mrs. Smith McInnis in the Fellowship Building of Philippi Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon.

YARD SALE
ANTIQUES & USED FURN.
SR-1003 Off Hwy. 20
Round Oak Tables w/Claw Feet, Walnut Chest of Drawers, China Cabinets and lots more.
OPEN DAILY

Evelyn's SAMPLE ROOM

NEW SHIPMENT
Christmas
PARTY DRESSES

1/2 Department
Store Prices

LAY AWAY NOW

NEW SHIPMENT SLEEPWEAR

GOWNS $7⁰⁰

See Them
Upstairs In Log Cabin

Hwy. 211 East, Raeford, N.C.

Lovely Selection
TOPS

Blouses by Jordache

Sweaters
by Jordache
& British Vogue

Cotton
Knit

Gift Wrapped Beautifully

Theresa's
Main St. Raeford

Christmas Parade
Saturday 2 p.m.

Buy Your Tickets
For Color T.V.
Drawing

FLORAL ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Christmas Is In The Air
At Brock Florist

Remember Your Friends Near And Far
With Our
FTD Lantern And Holly Bowl

SPECIAL ORDERS

TABLE ARRANGEMENTS
DOOR WREATHS GARLANDS
CHILDREN'S PIECES

LIVE CHRISTMAS TREES
POINSETTIAS
CEMETERY PIECES
CERAMICS

ALL SIZES AND PRICES

Christmas Greetings to all our friends. We thank you for your kind patronage and continued support in the past year.

Brock Florist

Claudyne & Eddie Brock

875-2879

Rockfish
Rd.

Scurlock Area

Christmas Parade Sat. 2 p.m.

10 THINGS you can do at The News-Journal

1. Place a classified ad.
2. Give us a news tip.
3. Subscribe to The News-Journal.
4. Place a classified ad.
5. Find out important meeting dates.
6. Talk to a reporter.
7. Re-new your subscription.
8. Place a classified ad.
9. Place a classified ad.
10. Place a classified ad.

We'll be waiting to hear from you.

The News-Journal
875-2121