Circus night

Big Top Musical Set For Hoke High May 19

The circus comes to town May 19 when the Hoke County High School Chorus and chorale will present "A Night Under The Big Top" in one week at 8:15 p.m. in the McDonald Gymnasium.

Several soloists will be featured. Kent Locklear plays P.T. Barnum, and Michelle Crotty plays Chairy Barnum. They never seem to agree on anything, but their performance of "I Like Your Style" proves that their love overcomes all.

Barnum's first attraction is a 160-year-old woman played by Caroline Ansley.

Despite her age, she sings "Thank God I'm Old."

Another of his attractions is only 25 inches tall, General Tom Thumb, played by Lynn Branch, who sings "Bigger Isn't Better."

Barnum finds yet another attraction in Jenny Lind, played by Tammie Hendrix.

Unfortunately for Chairy Barnum, he runs away with Jenny after touring "New York, New York," proving that "Love Makes Such Fools Of Us All."

Barnum finally comes to his senses and returns to Chairy with the promise to live in "Black and White," which is sung by Adrienne Kemp.

Barnum finds a business partner in JA Bailey, "The Prince Of Humbug," played by Bobby Carter.

Other soloists include Bryan Foster, Arnold Miller and Willett Bissett, Donna Spangler and Charles Averitt.

Other songs performed by the chorus and chorale include "Send In the Clowns," "Join The Circus," "The Colors of My Life," and "There Is A Sucker Born Ev'ry Minute."

The program will be covered by WKFT TV 40 in Fayetteville.

Admission is $2.00 in advance and $2.50 at the door.

Davis Honored At East Carolina

Ken Davis of 403 McMillion Street in Raeford was among 44 student and graduate nurses who have been inducted into East Carolina University's Beta Nu chapter of Sigma Theta Tau honor society.

They formally accepted membership at the chapter's annual spring induction ceremony in the auditorium of the Jenkins Fine Arts Center on campus Saturday.

Highlighting the event was a keynote address, "The Nurse as Scholar," presented by Dr. Helen Yura, professor and director of graduate studies at Old Dominion University.

The purpose of Sigma Theta Tau is to recognize and reward research and achievement in the field of nursing. Membership is open to outstanding students, nurse educators and practicing nurses.

Smith Gets Diploma

Carolyn Williams Smith received her high school diploma on May 6 at Sandhills Community College during the annual Continuing Education Achievement night.

Behind the scene
Anne Dorsey (top) director of the performance, Stacey Miller (middle) choreographer, and Caroline Ansley (bottom) publicist, all remain behind the scenes but play a very vital role in getting "A Night Under The Big Top" ready for the May 19 performance.
