May 15 at 6 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall. The Chapel Choir, which consists of children grades 1-4, has been working on this musical since the beginning of the year. The musical gives an account of how David, a more Israelite shepherd boy, defeats the Philistine warrior and giant, Goliath, through a trusting faith in God. This story is then applied to us in our struggle with "modern day" giants: giants such as pride, laziness, and others. The part of David is played by Robbie Williams and King Saul is played by Ed Baker. Lester Southern plays the Philistine giant, Goliath. Other speaking parts include Jonathan Mark, Josh Aretie, Todd Davis, Catherine Mark, Brooke Huff, Bobbs McBride and I. S. Brock. Songs are sung by Robbie Williams, Lester Southern and Brooke Huff. There is no admission charge and everyone is encouraged to attend this musical presentation.

Food Service Class Gets Presentation

The Food Service Class of Hoke County High School were given an informative presentation on May 5 by Mr. Jack Mills and Mr. Todd McDonald from the House of Raeford.

Mills gave a slide presentation on the growth of the turkey, the processing procedures at the plant, and the numerous turkey products that are available to the public.

McDonald emphasized the progress and the future plans of the House of Raeford.

At the end of their presentation the Food Service students and their instructor, Mrs. Harriet Archer were given recipes and a brochure from the House of Raeford. They were then invited to taste several of the popular turkey products.

In addition, the food service class members were taken by Archer to the Southern Living Cooking Show in Fayetteville at the Cumberland Auditorium.

The students who attended were: Faye Baldwin, Belinda Baldwin, Sabrina Barnes, Lisa Blackshear, Betsy Blanton, John Douglas, Wanda Galberth, Mary Lou Johnson, Kathy Locklear, Vallery Luckie, Lovely McCrae, Anita McRae, Patrice Smith, Lorrie Walters, and Brenda Winston.

The students were giving a bag of recipes, coupons and several other brochures.

Recipes were demonstrated from the Southern Living Cooking School Cookbook, and a slide presentation was presented along with the demonstration.

Everyone enjoyed the show and appreciated the tickets given to them from The Fayetteville Times and Observer.

Students were treated to a lunch at MacDonald's before returning to school.
