Arline Cook Hardy

The daughter of Mrs. Jerry Jones and the late Leon Cook, departed from this life on Monday morning, May 2 at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City. She was 43.

She received her elementary education in North Carolina where she was baptized at Walls Chapel Church. She enjoyed attending church with her grandparents who helped provide a Christian way of living.

She then journeyed to New York City where she graduated from Julia Richmond High School which sparked her interest in nursing.

She later married Mr. Wiley Hardy at Salem Methodist Church. They made a life for themselves together in New York and from that marriage they had two children, Adrian and Derek.

She enrolled in Bronx Community College School of Nursing, became a Registered Nurse at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center.

Arline's courage faith and conviction brought great comfort to her family who were with her during her illness. She knew the Lord and was not afraid to tell her visitors that, "He did not bring me this far to leave me."

She leaves to mourn her passing a husband, Wiley, one daughter, Adrian, one son, Derek, one son-in-law, Tracey; a mother and father, Jerry and Walter Jones of Raeford; a brother, Jeffrey Jones of New York City; a mother-in-law, Mary Hardy of Virginia; a niece, Diane Hardy; a god-daughter, Kyshan; aunts, Constance McEachin, Otis McQueen, Sarah McEachin, Viola McEachin; uncles, John McEachin, Lacy McEachin; and a host of loving and devoted cousins, and other relatives and friends.
