Kim and John McColl had a "Cook and Camp-Out" the past weekend.

Mrs. William Timmerman of Bostic Road and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Collins, Jr. of Fayetteville spent last week at Ocean Beach, New Jersey and had a delightful trip.

Mrs. Lawrence Barnard joined Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barnard in Cheraw, South Carolina to drive to Athens, Georgia Wednesday to visit Rev. and Mrs. Ray Austin and family and to attend their daughter, Dana Austins' high school graduation. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barnard returned to Cheraw Friday. Mrs. Lawrence Barnard accompanied the Austins to Atlanta Friday and spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kerns and Mrs. Joyce Wooten for the weekend and returned home Sunday night.

Lawrence Barnard visited his brother Littleton Barnard and family of Cheraw Wednesday of last week. He also spent Friday at Topsail Island fishing.

Mrs. Louise Watson was overnight guest of her sister, Mrs. Alma Parker of Selma Thursday of last week. Mrs. Parker returned home with her and will also be visiting other relatives in the area.

Mrs. Mary Long of Fayetteville was on the sick list last week. Mrs. Louise Watson and Mrs. Alma Parker of Selma visited her Friday. Phillip Watson of Fayetteville visited Mrs. Grace English and Mrs. Louise Watson last Friday.

Mrs. Grace English spent a few days at White Lake this week.

Congratulations to Mrs. Marie Fowler for her new grandson, Brandon McCoy Durham born Monday morning June 13 in Hillsboro, North Carolina. Congratulations also to the proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Durham.

Mrs. Alice Allen visited her children in Charleston, South Carolina recently. While there she and her daughter Miss Sandra Allen went to Fort Pierce and Orlando, Florida for a week. They also spent two days at EPCOT and reported a real nice trip.

Mrs. Vernell Closson of Goose Creek, South Carolina spent the past week with Mrs. Alice Allen. They attended the wedding of Eddie Prevatte in the First Baptist Church in Lumberton Saturday. They also attended the wedding of Robert Thornton at The Church of God of the Prophecy near Eastover Sunday. Mrs. Marie Fowler and daughter Cathy Fowler also attended with them.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Ruby Biggs who died Sunday. The funeral will be at Raeford Presbyterian Church and burial will be in Antioch Presbyterian Church Cemetery.

Literacy Council Fish Fry Successful

Hoke Reading/Literacy Council's annual Fish Fry was a success, Willie Featherstone, chairman of the event said.

"We nearly doubled last year's profit. I'm really impressed and want to express thanks to the more than 65 volunteers who had a part in this," he said.

Project Director Barbara Buie also expressed thanks especially to those who sold and purchased tickets. A special thanks goes to Bob Gentry for heading an outstanding cooking committee.

According to Ms. Buie the Literacy Council's success means that they have operating expense through June 30. July 1 begins the new fiscal year and fund raising begins again.

However, the council is optimistic.

Some children and Ms. Buie will attend the Laubach Literacy Action Regional Conference later this month.

Other than funds, the council's greatest need is volunteer tutors.

The council will train and place volunteers with a student at a convenient time and place.

Hoke Reading/Literacy Council is a non-profit organization and is affiliated with North Carolina Literacy Association and Laubach Literacy Action headquartered in Syracuse, New York.
