Rep. C.R. Edwards To Keynote Hoke Co. Civic League Banquet

North Carolina Rep. C.R. Edwards will be the keynote speaker Friday night at the annual Hoke County Civic League banquet. The event will be held at 7:30 p.m. at Hoke High School.

The Hoke County Civic League, an interdenominational organization, has as some of its objectives to create a better understanding and appreciation of political involvement in all levels of government, and to create a greater appreciation for the value of a more liberal investment of substance and self on behalf and interest of the community.

The League strives to promote unity, self-reliance, spiritual and moral values.

Through cooperative efforts, the League recognizes community achievements, which have created a better understanding and appreciation for civic involvement at the local, state and national levels.

The League takes great pride, and is acutely aware of the spiritual growth that has been gained through worship services which involve all denominations. Thousands of dollars have been given to the needy, and as a result, the local economy has profited. A major highlight is the League's annual banquet where there is always an abundance of love, goodwill and fellowship.

Numerous missions have been accomplished by the League, and it boasts great enthusiasm for the future.

The membership is presently looking forward to the banquet which will be held Friday night.

Helms To Help Yam Sales

Senator Jesse Helms, Chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, and Secretary of Agriculture John Block today hosted a luncheon at the Department of Agriculture to promote the marketing and consumption of yams.

The luncheon featured Gold Chips, which are sliced yams which are deep-fried.

In addition to Senator Helms and Secretary Block, the luncheon was attended by North Carolina Congressman Charlie Whitley, representatives of various USDA agencies, procurement officers from the major branches of the armed services and the Federal Bureau of Prisons, and Mr. Ben Robinson of Farm Pak Products of Rocky Mount, North Carolina.

"Yam producers are setting a fine example for all of American agriculture," said Helms. "Faced with a large surplus and a static market, they have developed new uses for their product in an effort to expand their market. I commend them for their initiative."

Ideal growing conditions led to a 14% increase in yam production in 1982, resulting in a huge surplus. The surplus caused a 46% decline in yam prices in 1982.

Yam producers are hoping that Gold Chips will be used extensively in USDA feeding programs, the armed services, and the Federal prison system.

The May 25 luncheon was designed to introduce the new product to these departments.
