Farm-City Week Plans Nearing Completion

Plans for the Hoke County observance of Farm-City Week are virtually complete, according to David Warren, chairman of the committee in charge of the international event.

Farm-City Week extends from November 18 through November 24, which is Thanksgiving Day in the United States. It is an annual event which spotlights a concentrated exchange of ideas and information between farm and city people. It's a time to learn about others - their jobs and their problems.

The local observance is under the sponsorship of the Agricultural Extension Service, Production Credit Association, Federal Land Bank, Farm Chemicals, Inc., Raeford Oil Company, The Johnson Company, Arabia Golf Course, Burlington Industries, Ciba-Geigy Corporation, Raeford Farm Supply, Pittard & Perry, CPA, Reid & Pearl Childress, Accountants and Hoke County Civic League.

Here in Hoke County, Farm-City Week will begin with a program and banquet on November 21, at the National Guard Armory on Hwy. 401 Bypass in Raeford. Due to limited space and food, you are encouraged to call the county extension office at 875-3461 for reservations.

More than 18,000 communities throughout the United States and Canada are expected to participate in this week-long series of events to support the theme: "Farm and City: Partners in Progress -- PEOPLE HELPING PEOPLE."

Farm-City Week is under the direction of the National Farm-City Council, Inc. The non-profit organization is headed by its 1983 National Chairman, Sam Stenzel, Executive Director, National Vocational Agricultural Teachers' Association, Inc.; Vice-Chairman and Secretary, John L. McGehee, Director of Special Events, Kiwanis International; and Treasurer, C. W. Stall, Secretary Asst. Treasurer, Indiana Farm Bureau, Inc.
