DAR honors student

Harry L. Southerland, Hoke High senior, has been honored by the Upper Cape Fear Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, through the society's Good Citizen program.

The Good Citizen Committee, inaugurated more than 50 years ago, recognizes senior high school students in America who show outstanding qualities of leadership, dependability, service, and patriotism.

Also honored at the October 4 chapter meeting in Red Springs were Darius Wilkins of Red Springs High School and Robert Jordan of Flora Macdonald Academy.

Southerland's mother, Elvenia Southerland, also was a guest at the chapter meeting where the three students were awarded pins and certificates of award.

Southerland is president of the senior class and of the Spanish club. He is a tutor through HOST, serves on the staff of the Annual, and is on the National Honor Roll. He has received the United States Achievement Award and is listed in Who's Who Among Secondary School Students.

In addition to his academic achievements, Harry is highly valued as an athlete. A four-year player on the Hoke High football and basketball teams, he also plays baseball.

Upchurch High principal taking management course

Allen Edwards, Upchurch Junior High School, is among a group of public school principals from throughout the state who are participating in a new professional-level management course for principals.

The Principals' Executive Program, which began in September, is offered by the Institute of Government at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The program is designed to teach the skills and provide the knowledge that will help public school principals in managing their schools. The curriculum is organized around thirteen major phases of school management, including such areas as long-range planning, crisis management, leadership, personnel management, effective communication, policy-making, curriculum analysis, financial management, and uses of computer technology.

The course is being taught in Chapel Hill during seven three-day sessions from September through December.
