William Wing III officiated. The bride was escorted by her father, Margaret Bullard of Fayetteville was matron of honor. Mary Shaw of Parkton was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Delane Shaw of Parkton and Marie McClay of St. Pauls.

The bridegroom's father was best man. Ushers were David Thaggard of Newport News, Virginia, and David Shaw Jr., Danny Shaw and Steven Thaggard, all of Parkton.

Wedding musicians were Elizabeth Blue and Betty Haliburton. Aunts of the bride were hostesses for a reception in the church fellowship hall.

The bride is a graduate of Parkton High School and has been employed by Burlington Industries in Raeford.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Parkton High School and is in the Air Force.

The couple will live in Marquette, Mich.

Woman's Day observed

Woman's Day was observed at Silver Grove Missionary Baptist Church, October 7.

The speaker for the morning service was Mrs. Charlotte Kelly.

Her topic was "There Is Pride in Being A Black Woman."

The young Adult Department presented a skit for the afternoon service, and Miss Sallie M. McNeil was honored as Silver Grove's Woman of the Year for 1984-85.

Walters-Cox tie knot

On October 20 Miss Barbara Lynn Cox was married to Harry Pink Walters, Jr. in Raeford Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Dr. John C. Ropp officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maurice Cox, Jr. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pink Walters.

The sanctuary was decorated with fifteen-branch candelabra and seven-branch candelabra. An arrangement of pink bridal roses, mauve lilies, white mums and gladiolias was on the altar. The mothers' pews had tapers in hurricane globes and greenery with salai. The grandmothers' pews were marked with greenery and bows.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Pam Senter, organist, and Mrs. Rochelle Collins who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of organza with chantilly lace which fell in a chapel-length train. There were ruffles on her sleeves, cuffs, the victorian bodice, on the skirt and down the train. She carried a cascade of pink silk bridal roses, pink gypsophila, ivy and veil and was trimmed with chantilly lace.

Miss Nancy Brasier was maid of honor, Mrs. Denise Whitaker was matron of honor. They wore long dresses of daphne rose organza with ruffled necklines and beige hats bound with rose ribbon. They carried bouquets of silk pink roses and mauve gypsophila and streamers.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Janie S. Cox of Monroe, Miss LeAnn Bass of Southern Pines, Miss Melody Walters of Raeford, and Miss Alisa Prevatte of Lumberton. Their gowns were like those of the honor attendants and their flowers were similar, with smaller pink roses.

The best man was Harry Pink Walters, Sr. The ushers were Mitchell M. Cox of Monroe, Andy Grant of Aberdeen, and Alan Walters, Roy Whitaker, and Lawrence Calloway of Raeford. The men all wore black tuxedos. The groom wore a boutonniere of pink roses. His groomsmen wore mauve carnations.

The mothers of the bride and groom wore white cattleya orchids with wedding lace. The grandmothers wore white carnation corsages.

Mrs. Mary Lee Chalaire directed the wedding.

Miss Cox is a graduate of Hoke High and Pembroke State University. She is employed by the Hoke County School Board of Education. Walters graduated from Hoke High and is employed by the Aberdeen Coca Cola Bottling Co. After a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tennessee, the Walters will live near Five Points in Hoke County.

Following the wedding, the bride's parents hosted a reception in the church fellowship hall. Pink roses were on the guest register table and in the arrangement on the food table. Mrs. Lois Guin, aunt of the groom, poured punch and Mrs. Betty Clapp, aunt of the bride, served cake. Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Tuttle. Tea girls were Miss Wendy Wood and Miss Worthy Baker. The guest register was attended by Mrs. Dorothy McMillian. Good-byes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Senter and their daughter Maggie.

PRE-WEDDING FESTIVITIES

A bridesmaids' luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. Bill Senter in Fayetteville. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Dorothy McMillian and Mrs. Phillip McMillan. Their gift to the bride was a coffee maker.

On October 19 the parents of the groom entertained the bridal party with a rehearsal dinner in the fellowship hall of the Community United Methodist Church.

Crissman-Davis

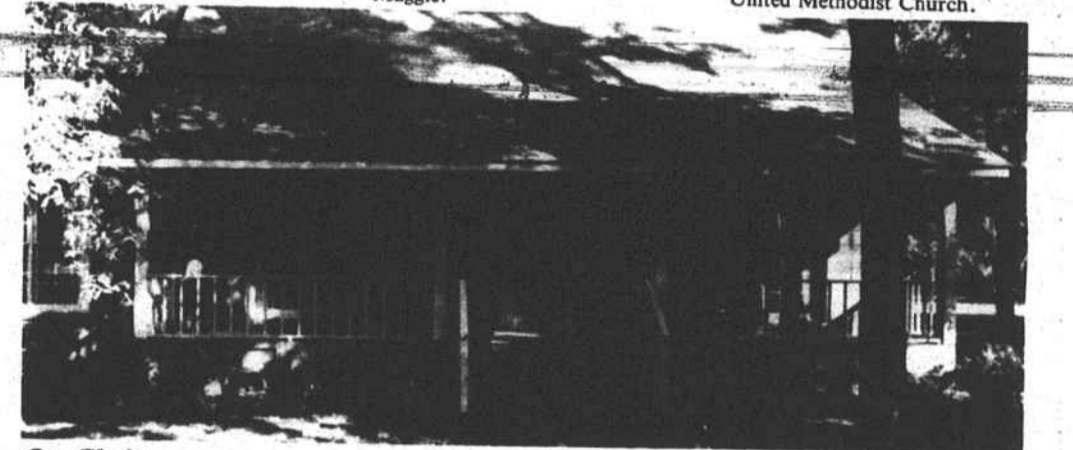

honored Oct. 27

Miss Judy Crissman and Kevin Davis were honored at a steak dinner on Saturday, October 27.

The couple is to be married on November 24 in the Presbyterian Church in Raeford.

The Levi Room of old Mildouson School was decorated with fall arrangements and candles on the tables. The bride received an unusual wheat corsage. Punch and finger foods were served as guests arrived.

Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Neil A. McNeill, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. George Shook, Mr. and Mrs. Lamor Bruner. They remembered Judy and Kevin with nice gifts.

On Christmas tour

This home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burgess will be featured on the Raeford Junior Woman's Club Christmas Tour.

Christmas tour shaping up

The Junior Woman's Club of Raeford has planned a tour of Raeford homes and a show of area crafts for December 2. The Civic Center will serve as the starting point for the tour and there will be craftsmen and women demonstrating and selling their products.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burgess is one of those on the tour. Their four-year-old farm house on Fulton Street has a country feeling inside and out.

Highlights in the house are antiques which belonged to Mrs. Burgess' grandparents and several prized quilts.

Two of the quilts are more than 100 years old.

Needlework pictures and two crocheted bedspreads are part of the early American decor.

Two of the crafts to be featured in the Civic Center will be leather work and pottery.

Fayetteville craftsmen Kathy Schwarz and Phyllis Bell are coming.

Phyllis Bell has her degree in Architectural Drafting and works as a full time mother and homemaker for her husband and two children.

She began her pottery through Fayetteville Technical Institute and through hard work and many hours "throwing" on her pottery wheel has developed into a first rate potter.

She will have many items on display for sale.

Kathy Schwarz works full time at Cumberland County Department of Social Services and makes time for her leather craft.

Her fine workmanship in all leather products can be seen at the Craft Fair.

Her biggest seller is hand tooled leather belts, but other items can be seen and purchased from this fine craftsman.
