I am asking any and all citizens of Raeford and Hoke County who are interested in helping to see this project completed to contact me. We could form a committee to go before the City Council and the Board of County Commissioners to give our views on this matter.

So please don't let our elected officials bulldoze down this building! Let's all pull together and have a multi-purpose recreational facility.

Tell lawmakers: 'Get by with less'

To the Editor:

Let us send a message to our illustrious legislators and County Commissioners. Vote "NO" on all upcoming bond issues. Let us tell them to get by with the same or less money the way they expect us to do after "they" are through picking our pockets. Make no mistake, a yes vote for bonds is a vote to raise taxes. I can see no reason to vote for more taxes until we see some accountability and fiscal responsibility on the generous amount we are already paying at all levels of government. It is time for us to demand, not sit by and wait for responsible fiscal policies.

We are asked to vote to tax ourselves further for popular projects that should be paid for from regular tax revenues. Legislators use much of the regular tax revenues for pork barrel projects, their own salary increases, perks and other unpopular projects. Let us get a jump on Nov.

'94 and show our disgust this Nov. 2 with our big spending elected officials at all levels by soundly defeating current bond issues.

If you feel you must vote yes on the money bonds please vote "NO" on the provision to allow local governments to float bonds and raise tax through increased local taxes to pay for them without a vote of the people. Just look at the unpopular restaurant tax fiasco in our neighboring Cumberland County that was passed in this manner.

Sincerely
Charlie McNeill

Mark McNeill, on behalf of academically gifted students at Hoke High, presents a freezer to Nora Cockburn of the Hoke Emergency Liaison Program (H.E.L.P.). The agency will use the freezer to store food for clients with emergency needs. For example, H.E.L.P. can purchase meat for 12 cents per pound but until now has had no place to store it. The students held fundraisers to make the purchase possible.
