Special athletes from all around Hoke County took the field for Hoke's annual Special Olympic field events. The events ranged from running, wheelchair races and long jumps to special booths for the children. Hoke County High School students joined in the events with a special R.O.T.C. booth and as volunteers. The skies were blue and the day was warm for the event and all the athletes — winners and losers — had a wonderful time.
