

Life & Leisure

Social news

Calendar of events

Classified ads

BACK IN THE SADDLE

Area 4-H kids keep equestrian tradition alive

PHOTO ESSAY
BY WENDY BROWN

Catherine Ezzell jumps her horse, Macaroni, over fences in the South Central District 4-H show held Saturday at Williams Farms. Above, Justin Hawk leaps into action with his horse. Justin took first in showmanship on Saturday.

Jessica Lewis submits to last-minute adjustments getting ready to take her horse, I.B. General, in the ring in competition.

One young competitor stands poised under the watchful eye of the judge in a showmanship category.

Amy Townsend walks her trusted partner, Maxwell Coffeebean, in the ring.