basketball team. She was voted "Most Well Rounded Girl" in her graduating class of 1966. She went on to earn an associate's degree in secretarial science from Sandhills Community College. She married Ozell Jacobs, a former classmate and basketball player, and the couple has two sons, Stephen and Robert. The family remains active and Brenda Jacobs is a member of the Parks and Recreation dance group, Just Us Plus. Jacobs has worked in various jobs in the community including with the Hoke County Public Library and the local Employment Security Commission. She is also a Notary Public. She worked with the Lumbec Regional Development Association and became very involved in civic affairs. She has served on several committees and boards including the Hoke County Schools Blue Ribbon Committee, the Hoke County Health Department Board, the Four County Board and the North Carolina Turkey Festival Board. She is a charter member and the first secretary of the Hoke County Native American Organization and served four years as the Antioch Precinct Delegate and chairperson of the county's Indian Education Program. She attends Mt. Elim Church and currently serves on the county Board of Elections.

Lorrie Jones

Lorrie Jones was born at home on her family's farm in the Rowland area of Robeson County. While growing up there, she attended Union Elementary School and graduated from Pembroke High School in 1966. She studied early childhood education at Pembroke State University and later earned her certification in job counseling from North Carolina Central University.

She moved to another family farm in the Dundarrach community in 1972 with her husband, Dexter Jones. She was employed with the Robeson County school system and became involved in the Hoke County school system as a way to support her own children's education. She is mother to Richard, Rebecca and Rhonda. Jones served on the Indian Education Board from 1976 until 1993 and held the position of parent committee chairperson for four of those years. She also served in the youth department of Dundarrach Baptist Church for 12 years. She began working with the Lumbec Regional Development Association in 1982 and later became employed with the North Carolina Commission of Indian Affairs. She also worked in Hoke County as a counselor with the Title IV Indian Education program. Jones has held membership in the National Association of Indian Education, the N.C. Department of Social Services, the N.C. Association of Rural Minority Women and the Hoke County Native American Council. In recent years she has focused on service in the missions field as part of the Burnt Swamp Baptist Association's Women's Missionary Union.

Charlotte Kelly

Charlotte Kelly was born and raised in Connecticut and earned a degree in business administration. Early in her career, she traveled back and forth between her home and Philadelphia while working with an African American newspaper called the Philadelphia Tribune. In Philadelphia she met and married William P. Kelly Sr. The couple had two sons, William Jr. and Steven C. Kelly, and moved to Kelly's hometown of Raeford in the 1970s. She worked with the Hoke County Department of Social Services until she retired in 2007. Kelly has served on a number of committees and organizations including serving two terms as the chairperson for the Hoke County Democratic Party. She also served 12 years as an elected official on the Hoke County Board of Education. Currently she is a member of the Hoke County Civic League and the Hoke County branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. She is a member of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Board and the Partners in Education Foundation. She attends Silver Grove Missionary Baptist Church where she serves on the Pastor's Aide Committee and as Church Deaconess. She is also a member of the Prince Hall Masonic family and is Grand Lecturer for the 15th District Order of the Eastern Star, among other roles within the assembly.

Marie Lowery

Marie Lowery was raised in the Antioch community and graduated from Hoke County High School in 1976. She worked at the county Clerk of Court's office for nearly 30 years and retired in 2005. Lowery was the first Native American to hold several of the positions she worked with in the Clerk of Court's office, she recalled. She credited two influential teachers, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Taylor, and her friend Della Maynor for much of her success. She relied on a support group of friends, family and God when faced with difficulties. During her time with the Clerk of Court's office, Lowery learned many new skills and made sure to pass that knowledge on to her team in the court system. After retiring, Lowery took on the role of caregiver for her mother, who has Alzheimer's disease. She also serves as church secretary at New Beginning Baptist Church. She is married to Tony Lowery. She is the mother of Chris and Colin and stepmother of Juanita and Wenona.

Marvin Lynne Maxwell

Marvin Lynne Maxwell was born in Lumberton and grew up in the Rowland area of Robeson County. She graduated from Rowland High School in 1971 and married James Neil Maxwell Jr. in 1975. The couple moved to the Dundarrach area of Hoke County where they raised their daughter, Shannon Leslie. Maxwell worked for the Hoke County school system and earned a degree from Womack-Selenia Business College.

CITY OF RAEFORD TAX LIST ADVERTISEMENT OF TAX LIENS ON REAL PROPERTY

Under and by virtue of the authority vested in me by Section 105-369 of the North Carolina General Statutes, I am hereby advertising tax liens for the year 2011 upon the real estate described below. The amount advertised will be increased by interest and costs, and the omission of interest and costs from the amount advertised will not constitute a waiver of taxing unit's claim for those items. The real estate that is subject to the lien, the name of the person to whom the property is listed for taxes and the principal amount of the taxes are set out below. If the taxes remain unpaid, the lien will be foreclosed by the taxing unit and the property sold to satisfy the taxing unit's claim for taxes. This the 18th day of April 2012.

Betty Smith, Tax Collector
